

Zeus Numismatics

Glass Auction 1

25 November 2023

All prices are starting prices (EUR)
PDF catalog created by www.biddr.com

1 **Item description:** Ancient Roman blown glass piece with pale glass, small piriform body, cylindrical neck, everted rim, and fully layered, natural, and lovely yellow-colored iridescence, Roman Imperial Period, circa 1st to 3rd century CE. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. Client is free to ask for more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** H: 10 cm. **Provenance:** Acquired from the esteemed Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass "The Grand Son Collection," within legal importation parameters to the Netherlands. **Estimating price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro.

50

2 **Item description:** Ancient Roman glass piece with translucent glass and opaque white trail, Roman Imperial Period, circa 1st to 3rd century CE. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, retaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** H: 8 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass within legal importation parameters to the Netherlands. **Estimating price:** 300 Euro - 480 Euro.

50

3 **Item description:** Ancient Roman blown glass unguentary, Roman Imperial Period, circa 1st to 3rd century CE. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, preserving its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** H: 11cm. **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Estimating price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro.

50

4 **Item description:** Ancient Roman free-blown glass vessel, Roman Imperial Period, circa 1st to 3rd century CE. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** H: 8 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection," within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro.

50

5 **Item description:** Ancient Roman free-blown glass vase vessel pot with chalky-white and light-beige earthen material coating, Roman Imperial Period, circa 1st to 3rd century CE. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** H: 4 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating price:** 150 Euro - 300 Euro.

50

6 **Item description:** Ancient Roman free-blown glass sprinkler flask with earthy deposits and iridescence, Roman Imperial Period, circa 1st to 3rd century CE. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** H: 4cm. **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Estimating price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro.

50

7 **Item description:** Ancient Roman blown glass unguentary, Roman Imperial Period, circa 1st to 3rd century CE. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** H: 12 cm. **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Estimating Price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro.

50

8 **Item Description:** Ancient Roman blown glass ointment jar with slight bluish hue, Roman Imperial Period, circa 1st to 3rd century CE. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, retaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** H: 7 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Estimating Price:** 150 Euro - 300 Euro.

50

9 **Item Description:** Ancient Roman glass candlestick unguentarium with iridescence and earthy encrustations, Roman Imperial Period, circa 2nd to 3rd century CE. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** H: 6 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Estimating Price:** 150 Euro - 300 Euro.

50

10 **Item Description:** Ancient Roman glass vessel with folded-out, over, and in rim, Roman Imperial Period, circa 1st to 4th century CE. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** H: 6.5 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Estimating Price:**150 Euro - 300 Euro.

50

11 **Item description:** Ancient Roman blown glass piece with pale glass, small piriform body, cylindrical neck, everted rim, and fully layered, natural, and lovely yellow-colored iridescence, Roman Imperial Period, circa 1st to 3rd century CE. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. Client is free to ask for more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** H: 8 cm. **Provenance:** Acquired from the esteemed Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass "The Grand Son Collection," within legal importation parameters to the Netherlands. **Estimating price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro.

50

12 **Item Description:** Ancient Roman glass vessel with thick, everted rim, folded over and in to oval, flaring mouth, cylindrical neck, globular body, and small bottom with shallow kick and pontil scar, Roman Imperial Period, circa 1st to 4th century CE. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** H: 8 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Estimating Price:**120 Euro - 240 Euro.

50

13 **Item Description:** Ancient Roman glass vessel with thick, everted rim, folded over and in to oval, flaring mouth, cylindrical neck, globular body, and small bottom with shallow kick and pontil scar, Roman Imperial Period, circa 1st to 4th century CE. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** 6.5 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Estimating Price:** 150 Euro - 300 Euro.

50

14 Group of 3 of Ancient Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century AD. of Thin Glass, Twisted and Very Colorful. Choice Pieces! Estimate: 300 Euro- 600 Euro

50

15 **Item Description:** **Ancient Roman colorless glass perfume bottle with pale blue-green tinge, Roman Imperial Period, circa 1st to 2nd century CE.** **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** H : 8 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Estimating Price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro.

50

16 **Item Description:** **Ancient Roman perfume bottle with everted rim, cylindrical neck, elongated piriform body, and thick, flat bottom, late 1st to 3rd century CE.** **Condition:** Outstanding quality, with the exception of a large weathered chip in the rim, severe pitting of surface bubbles, thick weathering around the rim, dulling, and brilliant iridescence. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** H: 13 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Estimating Price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro.

50

17 **Item Description:** **Ancient Roman perfume bottle with everted rim, cylindrical neck, elongated piriform body, and thick, flat bottom, late 1st to 3rd century CE.** **Condition:** Complete, except for a large weathered chip in the rim. Shows severe pitting of surface bubbles, thick creamy weathering around the rim, dulling, and brilliant iridescence. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** H: 12 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Estimating Price:** .range: 120 Euro - 180 Euro.

50

18 **Item Description:** **Ancient Roman translucent glass perfume bottle, late 1st to 3rd century CE.** **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is welcome to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** H: 11cm **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Estimating Price:** .range: 120 Euro - 180 Euro.

50

19 A wide purplish dark blue glass band bracelet that really benefits from the iridescence as well from the seal of the two ends of glass. We note a fleabite chip to edge of wide bracelet, of scant consequence. Estimate 200 Euro- 400 Euro

50

20 **Item Description:** **Large Conical Bodied Unguentarium from the Roman era, dating back to the 2nd-3rd Century CE.**Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from cracks, chips, and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** 12 Cm **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Estimating Price:** 200 Euro - 300 Euro.

50

21 **Item Description:** **Large Tall-Necked Unguentarium from the Roman period, late 2nd to early 3rd Century C.E.**Size:** 17 cm **Condition:** Superb condition, free from chips or repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Similar to Ancient Glass at the Newark Museum, Susan H. Auth #137. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Estimating Price:** 200 Euro - 300 Euro.

50

22 Gorgeous Ancient Roman Glass Bracelet 1st-3rd Century CE, with Exceptional Glass Inlay. Beautiful ancient Roman glass bracelet of a quality only the most wealthy could afford. Bracelet boasts exceptional glass inlay including a black & white twisted glass detail running atop the outside of bracelet punctuated with 5 inlays of turquoise glass. Choice condition, amazing quality 7.8 cm in diameter. Estimated Value 700 Euro - 1,000 Euro Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land.

50

23 **Item Description:** **Transparent glass vessels with bulbous bottoms, long cylindrical necks, and disk-like mouths, with areas of iridescence apparent on all the pieces.****
**Condition:** Superb condition, free from chips or repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely.
**Size:** 12 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Estimating Price:** 250 Euro - 400 Euro.

50

24 **Item Description:** **Roman spiral-thread glass bottle with squat globular body, tapering cylindrical neck, and trefoil flaring rim, late 2nd to early 3rd century CE.** **Condition:** Superb condition, free from chips or repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** 7.5 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **References:** Cf. Israeli, Y. Israel Museum, 2003, p. 116, no. 103. Whitehouse, D., Corning Museum of Glass, 2001, p. 169, nos. 700, 701. **Estimating Price:** .range: 800 Euro - 1200 Euro.

50

25 Group of 4 of Ancient Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century CE. Variety of Sizes and Colors . Estimate: 400 Euro- 800 Euro

50

26 **Item Description:** **Impressive Ancient Roman long-neck vessel with iridescence, 3rd-4th century CE, 15 cm.****
**Condition:** Superb condition, free from additional chips or repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Original chip under flared lip covered in iridescence, adding character. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Estimated Value:** $400 - $600

50

27 Group of 6 of Ancient Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century CE. Variety of Sizes and Colors . Estimate: 600 Euro- 1200 Euro

50

28 **Item Description:** **Impressive Ancient Roman long-neck vessel with iridescence, 3rd-4th century CE, 20 cm.****
**Condition:** Superb condition, free from additional chips or repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Original chip under flared lip covered in iridescence, adding character. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Estimated Value:** $320 - $380

50

29 **Item Description:** **Feathered Patterned Amphoriskos, Hellenistic period, 2nd-1st century B.C., 13.5 cm.** **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips or noticeable repair. **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Reference:** Cf. Ancient Glass at the Newark Museum, Susan H. Auth #283 **Estimated Value:** $2,000 - $4,000

50

30 "An incredible lathe-cut two-sided glass flask from the Byzantine Period, circa 9th Century. This mold-blown flask features a lathe-cut design on both sides. One side displays a depiction of a helmeted queen facing forward, wearing an earring and formal collar, accompanied by a large Jerusalem Cross to the left, all encompassed within fine concentric lines. The other side features a sunburst design within similar concentric lines. The entire piece showcases a vivid greenish-golden iridescence. Condition: Superb quality, free from chips and visible repair. Provenance: Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. Reference: Cf. Masterpieces of Glass in the British Museum, 1968 London. Wheel Cut pg. 99 Estimated Value: $4,000 - $8,000"

50

31 **Item Description** Blown glass flask or unguentarium in the form of a "candlestick" **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 100 AD-400 AD **Condition** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair **Size** 10 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land " The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price** 200 Euro - 400 Euro

50

32 Pair of Ancient Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century CE, Near Matching. Beautiful pair of ancient Roman glass bracelets, near matching, with dark glass an undulating line pink glass along the outside edge of the bands. Impressive iridescence adds immeasurable appeal to them both. Both 7.5 cm no chips, cracks, repairs. Estimated Value Euro 600 - 900 Euro Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land

50

33 **Item Description** Unguentarium **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 100 AD-400 AD **Condition** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size** Height: 7.5 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land " The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price** 300 Euro - 600 Euro

50

34 **Item Description** Single-handled trefoil mouth jug **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 4th-5th Century C.E. **Condition** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size** Height: 8.9 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land " The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price** 500 Euro - 800 Euro **Redrafted Description** A superbly crafted single-handled trefoil mouth jug from the 4th-5th Century C.E., made of clear pale yellow glass with a light purple handle, mostly covered with light purple iridescence. The jug is free from chips and noticeable repair, and is in outstanding condition.

50

35 Group of 3 of Ancient Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century AD. of Thin Glass, Twisted and Very Colorful. Choice Pieces! Estimate: 300 Euro- 600 Euro

50

36 **Item Description** A beautifully crafted green blown molded square glass bottle from the 3rd-4th Century CE, measuring 7.2 cm tall. Each of its four sides features a unique design: a starburst, two with a leaf or branch design, and a cross. The bottle is in excellent condition, with the exception of a tiny chip at the lip of the shortest long neck. **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 3rd-4th Century CE **Condition** Excellent, with the exception of a tiny chip at the lip of the shortest long neck. **Size** Height: 7.2 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land " The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price** 1000 Euro - 2000 Euro

50

37 Group of 3 of Ancient Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century AD. of Thin Glass, Twisted and Very Colorful. Choice Pieces!

50

38 **Item Description** A finely crafted single-handled jug with neck collar from the 4th-5th Century C.E., made of semi-translucent green glass with a thick green applied collar and handle. The jug exhibits patches of debris encrustation and stunning bluish and green iridescence. The jug is intact with some fissures and cracks, but no visible signs of repair. **Era** Eastern Roman Glass, 4th-5th Century C.E. **Condition** Intact with some fissures and cracks, exhibiting patches of debris encrustation, yet no visible signs of repair. **Size** Height: 10.5 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land " The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price** 500 Euro - 800 Euro

50

39 **Item Description** A stunning Roman glass bottle from the 100 AD-400 AD period, featuring a unique combination of light purple hue, white spiral thread, and trefoil rim. The bottle is squat and globular in shape, with a tapering cylindrical neck and a trefoil flaring rim. The body is elegantly ornamented with a rare spiral white glass thread that extends from the base to the neck. This distinctive bottle is a rare and desirable find, and is sure to be a conversation piece in any collection. **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 100 AD-400 AD **Condition** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair **Size** Height: 10.45 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price** 800 Euro - 1200 Euro

50

40 **Item Description** Large tall-necked Roman unguentarium **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, late 2nd to early 3rd Century C.E. **Condition** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair **Size** Height: 17 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price** 300 Euro - 500 Euro

50

41 **Item Description** Beautiful iridescent Roman unguentarium **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 2nd-3rd Century C.E. **Condition** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair **Size** 11 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price:** 300 Euro - 500 Euro

50

42 Group of 4 of Ancient Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century CE. Variety of Sizes and Colors . Estimate: 400 Euro- 800 Euro

50

43 **Item Description** Beautiful iridescent Roman unguentarium **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 2nd-3rd Century C.E. **Condition** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair **Size** 6 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price:** 150 Euro - 300 Euro

50

44 Near-Matching Ancient Pair of Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century CE. Fine pair of thicker ancient Roman glass bracelets made of the same dark glass and no doubt buried closely as their iridescence is quite similar. The larger is 7.5 cm, the smaller 6 cm and choice condition. Estimated Value $400 - 800 Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land

50

45 **Item Description** Roman short-necked flasks **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 2nd-3rd Century C.E. **Condition** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair **Size** 8 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro

50

46 Group of 6 of Ancient Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century CE. Variety of Sizes and Colors . Estimate: 600 Euro- 1200 Euro

50

47 **Item Description:** **Large Conical Bodied Unguentarium from the Roman era, dating back to the 2nd-3rd Century CE.**Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from cracks, chips, and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** H: 9 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Estimating Price:** 200 Euro - 300 Euro.

50

48 **Item Description:** **Large Conical Bodied Unguentarium from the Roman era, dating back to the 2nd-3rd Century CE.**Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from cracks, chips, and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size:** H: 15 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from The Grandson Collection, part of the Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass. **Estimating Price:** 200 Euro - 300 Euro.

50

49 **Item Description** Rare Ancient Sasanian iridescent light blue blown glass bottle with a single handle **Era** Ancient Sasanian Glass, 3rd-7th Century C.E. **Condition** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair **Size** 9.5 cm (Please provide the measurements if available) **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price:** 600 Euro - 1200 Euro

50

50 **Item Description** Unguentarium **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 100 AD-400 AD **Condition** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size** Height: 11 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land " The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price** 120 Euro - 240 Euro

50

51 **Item Description** A stunning ancient Roman pale yellow glass beaker with a bluish circle around the center of the body. The beaker features a cylindrical body that gradually slopes towards the flat folded ring of the foot, with the color of the glass becoming more subtle on the thin walls. Iridescence and earthy inlay are visible on the surface of the glass. **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 100 AD-400 AD **Condition** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair **Size** 11 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price:** 1200 Euro - 2400 Euro

50

52 **Item Description** Unguentarium **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 100 AD-400 AD **Condition** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size** Height: 7.5 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land " The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price** 300 Euro - 600 Euro

50

53 **Item Description** Unguentarium **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 100 AD-400 AD **Condition** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size** Height: 7.5 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land " The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price** 300 Euro - 600 Euro

50

54 **Item Description** Unguentarium **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 100 AD-400 AD **Condition** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size** Height: 11 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land " The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price** 300 Euro - 600 Euro

50

55 **Item Description** Fascinating Roman era glass bottle, believed to be an unguentarium (also referred to as Unguentarium, Balsamarium, or Lacrimarium). **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 1st-4th Century C.E. **Condition** Moderate condition, with fractures in the rim, otherwise intact. Surface calcified and encrusted with minerals. **Size** 7.5 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land ""The Grandson Collection"" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating Price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro

50

56 **Item Description** Blue-green blown glass bottle with tapered or bulbous body, cylindrical neck, and slightly flared lip **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 100 AD-400 AD **Condition** Excellent condition, with good iridescent surface patinas and scattered encrustation. **Size:** 11 cm (Please provide the measurements if available) **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating Price:****

50

57 **Item Description:** **Era:** Ancient Roman Glass (100 AD-400 AD) **Description:** This exquisite perfume bottle in translucent pale blue green captivates the senses with its delicate form and enchanting hues. Handcrafted during the Roman Empire (100 AD-400 AD), this piece exudes a timeless elegance that transcends the boundaries of time. The rim, gracefully folded out, over, and in, seamlessly transitions into the flaring mouth, creating a captivating visual interplay. The cylindrical neck, subtly tooled in around the base, accentuates the fluid lines of the bottle, while the conical body, gently curving to a slightly raised, flat bottom, provides a stable foundation for its precious contents. A faint horizontal tooled indent adorns the upper part of the body, adding a subtle decorative touch that underscores the bottle's exceptional craftsmanship. Despite the passage of time, this remarkable perfume bottle remains remarkably intact, bearing witness to its remarkable resilience. While some pinprick and larger bubbles and blowing striations add to its historical charm, the overall condition is exceptional, free from chips and noticeable repair. The exterior exhibits a delicate dulling, pitting, and iridescence, imbuing the piece with a patina that speaks of its rich history. The interior bears evidence of soil encrustation and creamy brown weathering, further enhancing its authenticity and adding to its unique character. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. The client is free to ask for more detailed photos by email and he can look deeply in the photos to know more details about condition. **Size:** 7 cm H: 5.5 cm (2.2 in) **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro

58 **Item Description:** **Era:** Ancient Roman Glass (1st - 2nd Century A.D.) **Description:** This exquisite lacrimarium, or tear bottle, crafted from translucent green glass during the Roman Empire (1st - 2nd Century A.D.), embodies the timeless elegance and craftsmanship of ancient Roman glassmakers. The lacrimarium stands an impressive 11.4 cm (4.5 in) tall, its slender cylindrical form complemented by a graceful teardrop shape that tapers to a rounded base. The surface exhibits a delicate iridescence, adding a touch of mystery and grandeur to the piece. Despite its age, the lacrimarium remains intact, bearing witness to its remarkable resilience. While some minor imperfections and traces of soil encrustation enhance its historical charm, the overall condition is exceptional, free from chips and noticeable repair. This lacrimarium serves as a poignant reminder of the Roman Empire's fascination with death and the afterlife, with tear bottles often used to commemorate the loss of loved ones. Its delicate form, exquisite craftsmanship, and remarkable condition make it a true treasure, worthy of adorning any discerning collector's collection. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. The client is free to ask for more detailed photos by email and he can look deeply in the photos to know more details about condition. **Size:** 9 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating price:** 400 Euro - 800 Euro

50

59 **Item Description** Unguentarium **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 100 AD-400 AD **Condition** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size** Height: 11.5 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "" The Grandson Collection"" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price** 300 Euro - 600 Euro "

50

60 **Item Description:** **Era:** Ancient Roman Glass (2nd - 3rd Century A.D.) **Description:** This captivating Roman unguentarium toilet bottle, fashioned from translucent pale glass during the Eastern Roman Empire (2nd - 3rd Century A.D.), exudes an enchanting charm that transcends time. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. The client is free to ask for more detailed photos by email and he can look deeply in the photos to know more details about condition. **Size:** 8.3 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro

61 **Item Description:** **Era:** Ancient Roman Glass (1st - 2nd Century A.D.) **Description:** This exquisite ointment bottle, crafted from translucent pale blue glass during the Roman Empire (1st - 2nd Century A.D.), epitomizes the timeless elegance and craftsmanship of ancient Roman glassmakers. The ointment bottle boasts a high neck, gracefully tapering to a wide, flat lip, while the body features a pleasing globular shape. The narrowing in its connection with the body exemplifies the utilitarian design of the vessel, allowing for controlled dispensing of its contents. Despite its age, the ointment bottle remains remarkably intact, bearing witness to its enduring quality. The complete form, free from chips or noticeable repair, attests to the exceptional craftsmanship of ancient Roman glassblowers. The delicate iridescence that adorns the body adds a touch of mystique and elegance to the piece. This ointment bottle, once used to hold precious ointments and perfumes, serves as a tangible link to the ancient Roman world, offering a glimpse into the refined tastes and sophisticated lifestyle of the time. Its delicate form, exquisite craftsmanship, and remarkable condition make it a true treasure, worthy of adorning any discerning collector's collection. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. The client is free to ask for more detailed photos by email and he can look deeply in the photos to know more details about condition. **Size:** 13 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating price:** 240 Euro - 480 Euro

62 **Item Description:** **Era:** Ancient Roman Glass (100 AD-400 AD) **Description:** This exquisite perfume bottle, crafted from translucent glass with a folded out, over, and in rim, a cylindrical neck with a horizontal tooling indent around the base, and a piriform body with a broad, flat bottom, captivates the senses with its delicate form and intriguing shape. Handcrafted during the Roman Empire (100 AD-400 AD), this piece exudes a timeless elegance that transcends the boundaries of time. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. The client is free to ask for more detailed photos by email and he can look deeply in the photos to know more details about condition. **Size:** 7.5 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro

63 **Item Description:** **Era:** Ancient Roman Glass (100-300 AD) **Description:** This exquisite Ancient Roman glass unguentarium, dating back to 100-300 AD, epitomizes the sophistication and craftsmanship of ancient Roman glassmakers. The unguentarium gracefully balances a flared base with a narrow neck leading to a rounded rim, creating a captivating visual interplay. Its compact form, measuring approximately 175mm (6.9 in) in length and 75mm (3 in) in width, suggests its function as a vessel for storing precious cosmetics, such as perfumes, oils, or powders. Unguentaria, small blown glass bottles, were ubiquitous throughout the Roman Empire, not only as containers for cosmetics but also as product packaging in commerce and as memento mori in funerary rituals. This particular unguentarium, with its exceptional condition, bears witness to the enduring quality of ancient Roman glassmaking. Despite its age, the unguentarium remains remarkably intact, showcasing the resilience of early glassblowing techniques. Free from chips or noticeable repair, the piece exudes an aura of timeless elegance. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. **Size:** 11 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating price:** 300 Euro - 500 Euro

64 **Item Description:** **Era:** Ancient Roman Glass (100-400 AD) **Description:** This captivating Roman unguentarium, crafted from translucent glass with a tall neck and flattened pad-like body and a flat base, exudes an enchanting charm that transcends time. Its tall neck, topped with a flattened pad-like body and a flat base, lends an air of elegance and practicality to the vessel. The glass's subtle iridescence, evident in patches across the surface, adds a touch of mystique and grandeur to the piece. This iridescence, known as aventurescence, occurs when small particles of metallic oxides are suspended in the glass during the manufacturing process. The interaction of light with these particles creates a shimmering, star-like effect, further enhancing the unguentarium's allure. Despite its age, the unguentarium remains remarkably intact, bearing witness to its remarkable resilience. Free from chips or noticeable repair, the piece speaks of the exceptional craftsmanship of ancient Roman glassmakers. This unguentarium, once used to hold precious perfumes, oils, or powders, serves as a tangible link to the ancient Roman world, offering a glimpse into the refined tastes and sophisticated lifestyle of the time. Its captivating form, exquisite iridescence, and remarkable condition make it a true treasure, worthy of adorning any discerning collector's collection. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. **Size:** 8.5 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" **Estimating price:** 150 Euro - 300 Euro

65 **Item Description:** **Era:** Ancient Roman Glass (1st - 2nd century CE) **Description:** This exquisite Ancient Roman glass beaker, dating back to the 1st - 2nd century CE, epitomizes the refined artistry and craftsmanship of ancient glassmakers. The beaker's graceful conical body features slightly wavy sides that flow seamlessly into an everted rim, creating a captivating visual interplay. Its concave base provides a secure foundation for the delicate vessel. The beaker's extremely thin walls, evident in the delicate way light plays across the surface, showcase the exceptional skill of ancient glassblowers. This advanced technique, known as wheel-cutting, allowed for the creation of intricate shapes and thin-walled vessels that were both elegant and functional. The beaker's surface bears a pleasing patina, adding to its historical charm and authenticity. This patina, a natural result of time and exposure, is a testament to the beaker's enduring presence throughout the centuries. This beaker, once used for everyday and ceremonial purposes, serves as a tangible link to the ancient Roman world, offering a glimpse into the refined tastes and sophisticated lifestyle of the time. Its captivating form, delicate construction, and rich patina make it a true treasure, worthy of adorning any discerning collector's collection. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips or noticeable repair. **Size:** 13.4 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimated Price:** 400 Euro - 800 Euro **References:** * Yael Israeli, (2003) Ancient Glass in the Israel Museum, Page 162. #160, * Vesberg 1952, pl. 44:24 * Bagatti 1967, p.234, figs. 6, 7:142 * McNicoll et al. 1982 pl. 133:9;

66 **Item Description:** **Era:** Ancient Roman Glass (100-400 AD) **Description:** This magnificent Ancient Roman glass balsamarium, dating back to the 1st - 4th century AD, exudes an enchanting charm that transcends time. Its shimmering iridescence, evident throughout the glass, adds a touch of mystique and grandeur to the piece. The balsamarium's elongated collar gracefully transitions into a pear-shaped belly, creating a captivating visual interplay. Its substantial size, measuring 13.7×7.5×0 cm (5.4×3×0 in), suggests its purpose as a container for precious perfumes or ointments. The balsamarium's remarkable iridescence, known as aventurescence, occurs when small particles of metallic oxides are suspended in the glass during the manufacturing process. These particles scatter light, creating a shimmering, star-like effect that further enhances the piece's allure. Despite its age, the balsamarium remains remarkably intact, bearing witness to its remarkable resilience. Free from chips or noticeable repair, the piece speaks of the exceptional craftsmanship of ancient Roman glassmakers. This balsamarium, once used to hold precious scents and adornments, serves as a tangible link to the ancient Roman world, offering a glimpse into the refined tastes and sophisticated lifestyle of the time. Its enchanting iridescence, captivating form, and remarkable condition make it a true treasure, worthy of adorning any discerning collector's collection. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips or noticeable repair. **Size:** 7.5 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimated Price:** 120 Euro - 1240 Euro

67      **Item Description:**      **Era:** 1st Century AD
**Description:** This exquisite 1st century AD piriform bottle, with its distinctive in-folded rim and thick, pitted glass, exudes an enchanting charm that transcends time. Its irregular rim, flattened parallel to the base, adds a touch of rustic charm to the piece, making it a unique and captivating example of ancient glassware. The bottle's cylindrical neck seamlessly transitions into the body, which leads to a flat base. The absence of a palpable pontil mark suggests that the bottle may have been made using the free-blowing technique, where the glassblower shaped the vessel directly from a gathered mass of molten glass. The bottle's thick, pitted glass, a result of the manufacturing process, adds to its rustic appeal and historical authenticity. This unique texture speaks to the craftsmanship and ingenuity of ancient glassmakers, who were able to create vessels with both artistic and functional qualities. Despite its age and rustic character, the bottle remains remarkably intact, bearing witness to its resilience and craftsmanship. Free from chips or noticeable repair, the piece attests to the enduring quality of ancient glassware. This piriform bottle, once used for everyday or ceremonial purposes, serves as a tangible link to the ancient world, offering a glimpse into the refined tastes and sophisticated lifestyle of the time. Its captivating form, rustic charm, and remarkable condition make it a true treasure, worthy of adorning any discerning collector's collection. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips or noticeable repair. **Size:** 10 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimated Price:** 160 Euro - 220 Euro

68 **Item Description:** **Era:** 2nd-3rd Century AD **Description:** This magnificent Antique perfume or ointment bottle, dating back to the 2nd-3rd century AD, exudes an enchanting charm that transcends time. Its iridescent glass, with remains of concretions made of later clay, adds a touch of mystique and grandeur to the piece. The balsamarium's slender neck gracefully transitions into a pear-shaped belly, creating a captivating visual interplay. Its modest size, measuring 13.7×7.5×0 cm (5.4×3×0 in), suggests its purpose as a container for precious perfumes or ointments. The balsamarium's remarkable iridescence, known as aventurescence, occurs when small particles of metallic oxides are suspended in the glass during the manufacturing process. These particles scatter light, creating a shimmering, star-like effect that further enhances the piece's allure. The concretions of later clay, found on the surface of the balsamarium, may be the result of environmental factors or intentional additions. They add to the piece's historical authenticity and provide insights into its long journey through time. Despite its age and the presence of concretions, the balsamarium remains remarkably intact, bearing witness to its remarkable resilience. Free from chips or noticeable repair, the piece speaks to the exceptional craftsmanship of ancient Roman glassmakers. This balsamarium, once used to hold precious scents and adornments, serves as a tangible link to the ancient Roman world, offering a glimpse into the refined tastes and sophisticated lifestyle of the time. Its enchanting iridescence, captivating form, and remarkable condition make it a true treasure, worthy of adorning any discerning collector's collection. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips or noticeable repair. **Size:** 7 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimated Price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro

69 **Item Description:** **Era:** Eastern Mediterranean, Circa 3rd Century AD **Description:** This captivating Roman unguentarium, crafted from translucent green-blue glass, exudes an enchanting charm that transcends time. Its tall neck, topped with a flattened pad-like body and a flat base, lends an air of elegance and practicality to the vessel. The glass's subtle iridescence, evident in patches across the surface, adds a touch of mystique and grandeur to the piece. This iridescence, known as aventurescence, occurs when small particles of metallic oxides are suspended in the glass during the manufacturing process. The interaction of light with these particles creates a shimmering, star-like effect, further enhancing the unguentarium's allure. Despite its age, the unguentarium remains remarkably intact, bearing witness to its remarkable resilience. Free from chips or noticeable repair, the piece speaks of the exceptional craftsmanship of ancient Roman glassmakers. This unguentarium, once used to hold precious perfumes, oils, or powders, serves as a tangible link to the ancient Roman world, offering a glimpse into the refined tastes and sophisticated lifestyle of the time. Its captivating form, exquisite iridescence, and remarkable condition make it a true treasure, worthy of adorning any discerning collector's collection. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips or noticeable repair. **Size:** 7 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro

70 **Item Description:** **Era:** Early Roman period, 1st-2nd century AD **Description:** This exquisite early Roman unguentarium, crafted from translucent colorless glass, exudes an enchanting charm that transcends time. Its distinctive rim, folded out, over, and in, with an uneven flattened upper surface, adds a touch of rustic beauty to the piece. The unguentarium's cylindrical neck, with a tooled indent around the base, seamlessly transitions into the piriform body, which leads to a rounded bottom, flat at center. The cylindrical neck and tooled indent suggest that the unguentarium may have been made using the free-blowing technique, where the glassblower shaped the vessel directly from a gathered mass of molten glass. The unguentarium's colorless glass, showcasing the purity of the material, adds to its timeless elegance and historical authenticity. This simplicity speaks to the craftsmanship and ingenuity of ancient glassmakers, who were able to create vessels with both artistic and functional qualities. Despite its age and the rustic character of the rim, the unguentarium remains remarkably intact, bearing witness to its resilience and craftsmanship. Free from chips or noticeable repair, the piece attests to the enduring quality of ancient glassware. This unguentarium, once used to hold precious perfumes, oils, or powders, serves as a tangible link to the ancient world, offering a glimpse into the refined tastes and sophisticated lifestyle of the time. Its captivating form, rustic charm, and remarkable condition make it a true treasure, worthy of adorning any discerning collector's collection. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips or noticeable repair. **Size:** 7 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating price:** 180 Euro - 360 Euro

71 **Item Description:** **Era:** Roman, 1st-2nd century CE **Description:** This exquisite glass perfume bottle, dating back to the 1st-2nd century CE, exudes an enchanting charm that transcends time. Its colorless glass, with a pale blue-green tinge, adds a touch of sophistication to the piece. The perfume bottle's slanted rim, folded out, over, and in, and pressed unevenly to one side, creates a unique and captivating visual interplay. Its tall cylindrical neck, small, squat, globular body, and pushed-in bottom with traces of pontil mark further enhance the piece's distinctive form. The perfume bottle's surface bears the marks of time, with pinprick bubbles, dulling, pitting, and patches of brilliant iridescent weathering on the exterior. The interior exhibits soil encrustation and creamy brown weathering. These imperfections add to the piece's historical authenticity and provide insights into its long journey through time. Despite its age and the patina of wear, the perfume bottle remains remarkably intact, bearing witness to its resilience and craftsmanship. Free from chips or noticeable repair, the piece attests to the enduring quality of ancient glassware. This perfume bottle, once used to hold precious perfumes, oils, or powders, serves as a tangible link to the ancient Roman world, offering a glimpse into the refined tastes and sophisticated lifestyle of the time. Its captivating form, unique character, and remarkable condition make it a true treasure, worthy of adorning any discerning collector's collection. **Condition:** Intact; pinprick bubbles; dulling, pitting, and patches of brilliant iridescent weathering on exterior, soil encrustation and creamy brown weathering on interior. **Size:** 13 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating price:** 100 Euro - 200 Euro

72 **Item Description:** **Era:** Roman, 1st-3rd century AD
**Description:** This exquisite glass flask, crafted from translucent blue-green glass, exudes an enchanting charm that transcends time. Its thick, slightly twisted ribs, folded rim of the mouth, and blue-green glass add a touch of sophistication and mystique to the piece. The flask's generous size, measuring 8.8 cm (3.5 in) in height, suggests its purpose as a container for precious perfumes, oils, or powders. The flask's thick, slightly twisted ribs, creating a dynamic visual interplay, add a touch of architectural elegance to the piece. The folded rim of the mouth, neatly finished, further enhances the flask's refined form. The flask's blue-green glass, with a pleasing patina, adds to its timeless elegance and historical authenticity. This color combination was popular during the Roman period, reflecting the refined tastes and preferences of the time. Despite its age and the presence of ribbing, the flask remains remarkably intact, bearing witness to its resilience and craftsmanship. Free from chips or noticeable repair, the piece attests to the enduring quality of ancient glassware. This flask, once used to hold precious scents and adornments, serves as a tangible link to the ancient Roman world, offering a glimpse into the refined tastes and sophisticated lifestyle of the time. Its captivating form, architectural details, and remarkable condition make it a true treasure, worthy of adorning any discerning collector's collection.
**Condition:** Superb. Strong with good walls. **Size:** 5.5 cm
**Estimated Price:** 200 Euro - 400 Euro

73 **Item Description:** **Era:** Ancient Roman Glass (1st - 2nd Century AD) **Description:** This exquisite "tear vial" bottle, crafted from translucent blue glass with a flared mouth and inward folded rim, exudes an enchanting charm that transcends time. Its delicate form and piriform body with a rounded base evoke the poignant sentiment of ancient Judaeen funerary rituals. Dating back to the 1st - 2nd Century AD, this piece embodies the artistry and craftsmanship of ancient Roman glassmakers. The graceful transition from the piriform body to the long cylindrical neck with a constricted base creates a captivating visual interplay. The bottle's light blue color, with subtle deposits from time's passage, adds to its historical authenticity and allure. This delicate shade of blue was highly sought after during the Roman period, symbolizing serenity and tranquility, qualities often associated with the passage from life to death. The inward folded rim, meticulously crafted, adds a touch of elegance and refinement to the piece. This intricate detail reflects the meticulous attention to detail that characterized ancient Roman glassmaking techniques. More than just a vessel, this "tear vial" bottle carries a profound emotional significance. In ancient Judaea, mourners would fill these vials with their tears as a testament to their grief and love for their departed loved ones. These vessels, placed in tombs, served as tangible expressions of remembrance and connection between the living and the deceased. Despite its age and delicate nature, the "tear vial" bottle remains remarkably intact, bearing witness to its resilience and the enduring power of human emotion. Free from chips or noticeable repair, the piece speaks of the exceptional craftsmanship of ancient glassmakers and the profound significance of funerary rituals. This "tear vial" bottle, a poignant relic of ancient Judaeen customs, stands as a testament to the enduring power of human emotion and the enduring legacy of ancient craftsmanship. Its captivating form, delicate color, and historical significance make it a true treasure, worthy of adorning any discerning collector's collection. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips or noticeable repair. **Size:** H: 8 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimated Price:** 100 Euro - 200 Euro

74 **Item Description:** **Era:** Ancient Roman Glass (1st - 2nd Century AD) **Description:** This exquisite "tear vial" bottle, crafted from translucent deep blue-green glass with a lovely interior iridescence, exudes an enchanting charm that transcends time. Its delicate form and piriform body with a rounded base evoke the poignant sentiment of ancient Roman burial practices. Dating back to the 1st - 2nd Century AD, this piece embodies the artistry and craftsmanship of ancient Roman glassmakers. The graceful transition from the piriform body to the long cylindrical neck with a constricted base creates a captivating visual interplay. The bottle's deep blue-green color, with a shimmering iridescence, adds to its visual appeal and historical authenticity. This rich shade of blue was highly sought after during the Roman period, symbolizing both life and death, qualities often associated with ancient Roman burial rites. The iridescence within the bottle's interior adds a touch of mystique and allure to the piece. This natural phenomenon, caused by the scattering of light from microscopic particles within the glass, further enhances the bottle's visual beauty. More than just a vessel, this "tear vial" bottle carried a profound emotional significance. In ancient Roman burial practices, these vials were often filled with tears or other personal mementos of the deceased, symbolizing remembrance and connection between the living and the departed. These vessels, placed in tombs, served as tangible expressions of grief and love. Despite its age and delicate nature, the "tear vial" bottle remains remarkably intact, bearing witness to its resilience and the enduring power of human emotion. Free from chips or noticeable repair, the piece speaks of the exceptional craftsmanship of ancient glassmakers and the profound significance of ancient burial traditions. This "tear vial" bottle, a poignant relic of ancient Roman customs, stands as a testament to the enduring power of human emotion and the enduring legacy of ancient craftsmanship. Its captivating form, rich color, and historical significance make it a true treasure, worthy of adorning any discerning collector's collection. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips or noticeable repair. **Size:** 7 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimated Price:** 100 Euro - 200 Euro

75 **Item Description:** **Era:** Ancient Roman Glass (2nd - 4th Century AD) **Description:** This exquisite glass jug, crafted from translucent brilliant blue glass with stunning iridescence, exudes an enchanting charm that transcends time. Its spherical body on a round foot, tapering tubular neck, and elaborate strap handle embody the artistry and craftsmanship of ancient Roman glassmakers. Dating back to the 2nd - 4th Century AD, this piece exemplifies the advanced techniques employed by Roman glass artisans. The graceful transition from the spherical body to the tapering neck, culminating in a splayed lip and thickened rim, creates a captivating visual interplay. The jug's brilliant blue color, with mesmerizing iridescence ranging from silvery to golden and rainbow hues, adds to its visual appeal and historical significance. This iridescence, caused by the scattering of light from microscopic particles within the glass, lends the piece a touch of mystique and allure. The jug's elaborate strap handle, bridging the upper neck to shoulder, further enhances its elegance and refined form. This intricate detail reflects the meticulous attention to detail that characterized ancient Roman glassmaking techniques. Despite its age and delicate nature, the jug remains remarkably intact, bearing witness to its resilience and the enduring legacy of ancient craftsmanship. Free from chips or noticeable repair, the piece speaks of the exceptional skill of ancient glassmakers and their ability to create objects of beauty that stand the test of time. This jug, a testament to the artistry of ancient Roman glassmakers, stands as a timeless treasure, worthy of adorning any discerning collector's collection. Its captivating form, rich color, and mesmerizing iridescence make it a true work of art. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips or noticeable repair. **Size:** 8 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimated Price:** 300 Euro - 500 Euro

76 **Item Description:** **Era:** Roman Art, 2nd-3rd Century AD **Description:** This magnificent balsamarium, crafted from translucent greenish iridescent glass with a high neck and campaniform body, exudes an enchanting charm that transcends time. Its elongated neck, tapering towards the top, gracefully transitions into a bell-shaped body, adding a touch of elegance and refinement to the piece. Dating back to the 2nd - 3rd Century AD, this balsamarium exemplifies the advanced techniques employed by Roman glassmakers. The precise shaping of the body, the delicate tapering of the neck, and the subtle iridescence of the glass all contribute to the piece's visual appeal and historical significance. The balsamarium's greenish iridescence, a result of microscopic inclusions within the glass, lends the piece a touch of mystique and allure. This natural phenomenon, reminiscent of precious stones, further enhances the object's beauty and value. Despite its age and intricate form, the balsamarium remains remarkably intact, bearing witness to its resilience and the enduring legacy of ancient glassmaking craftsmanship. Free from chips or noticeable repair, the piece speaks of the exceptional skill of ancient glassmakers and their ability to create objects of beauty that stand the test of time. This balsamarium, a relic of ancient Roman craftsmanship, stands as a timeless treasure, worthy of adorning any discerning collector's collection. Its captivating form, rich color, and mesmerizing iridescence make it a true work of art. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips or noticeable repair. **Size:** 12.5 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimated Price:** 300 Euro - 500 Euro

77 **Item Description:** **Era:** Roman, 2nd Century CE **Description:** This exquisite Roman glass candlestick bottle, crafted from translucent glass with a ledged rim, wide cylindrical neck, and short conical body, exudes an enchanting charm that transcends time. Its unique form and delicate construction embody the artistry and craftsmanship of ancient Roman glassmakers. Dating back to the 2nd Century CE, this piece exemplifies the innovative designs employed by Roman artisans. The candlestick bottle form, with its distinctive ledged rim, wide cylindrical neck, and short conical body, served a dual purpose - to hold oil for illumination and to provide a stable base for a candlestick. The bottle's translucent glass, allowing light to pass through, further enhances its functionality as an illumination vessel. The subtle imperfections and inclusions within the glass add to the piece's historical authenticity and charm, reflecting the handmade nature of ancient glassmaking techniques. Despite its age and intricate form, the candlestick bottle remains remarkably intact, bearing witness to its resilience and the enduring legacy of ancient craftsmanship. Free from chips or noticeable repair, the piece speaks of the exceptional skill of ancient glassmakers and their ability to create objects of beauty and utility. This candlestick bottle, a testament to the ingenuity of ancient Roman glassmakers, stands as a timeless treasure, worthy of adorning any discerning collector's collection. Its captivating form, historical significance, and enduring quality make it a true work of art. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips or noticeable repair. **Size:** 10 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimated Price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro

78 **Item Description:** **Title:** Roman Glass Candlestick Bottle **Era:** Roman, 2nd Century CE **Medium:** Glass **Dimensions:** H: 2.2 cm **Description:** This exquisite Roman glass candlestick bottle, crafted from translucent glass with a distinctive ledged rim, wide cylindrical neck, and a short conical body, exudes an enchanting charm that transcends time. Its unique form and delicate construction embody the artistry and craftsmanship of ancient Roman glassmakers. Dating back to the 2nd Century CE, this piece exemplifies the innovative designs employed by Roman artisans. The candlestick bottle form, with its distinguished ledged rim, wide cylindrical neck, and short conical body, served a dual purpose - to hold oil for illumination and to provide a stable base for a candlestick. The bottle's translucent glass, allowing light to pass through, further enhances its functionality as an illumination vessel. The subtle imperfections and inclusions within the glass add to the piece's historical authenticity and charm, reflecting the handmade nature of ancient glassmaking techniques. **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips or noticeable repair. **Estimated Price:** 150 Euro - 300 Euro

79 **Item Description:** **Title:** Glass Bottle **Era:** Roman, 2nd Century CE **Medium:** Glass **Dimensions:** H: 4 cm **Description:** This exquisite Roman glass bottle, crafted from translucent light green glass with a distinctive folded-in rim, slightly indented base, and eight irregular feet, exudes an enchanting charm that transcends time. Its unique form and delicate construction embody the artistry and craftsmanship of ancient Roman glassmakers. Dating back to the 2nd Century CE, this piece exemplifies the innovative designs employed by Roman artisans. The bottle's folded-in rim, slightly indented base, and eight irregular feet add a touch of elegance and functionality to the piece. The bottle's transparent light green glass, with its opaque greyish weathering layer that has largely flaked away, lends the piece a sense of age and history. The weathering layer reflects the effects of time and use, adding to the object's authenticity and charm. This bottle, with its distinct form and exquisite execution, is likely to have belonged to a wealthy individual during the Roman Empire. Its elegant design and practical purpose would have made it a valued possession. **Condition:** Excellent, with some flaking of the weathering layer. **Estimated Price:** 200 Euro - 300 Euro

80 **Title:** Roman Turquoise Glass Unguentarium **Era:** Roman, 1st - 2nd Century AD **Medium:** Glass **Dimensions:** 6.9 cm **Description:** This exquisite Roman turquoise glass unguentarium exudes an enchanting charm that transcends time. Its piriform-shaped body, with a constriction at the base of the cylindrical neck and an everted, folded rim, embodies the artistry and craftsmanship of ancient Roman glassmakers. Dating back to the 1st - 2nd Century AD, this piece exemplifies the refined tastes and sophisticated lifestyle of the Roman era. Unguentaria were commonly used to hold precious perfumes, oils, or powders, and their delicate forms often reflected the wealth and status of their owners. The unguentarium's turquoise glass, with its captivating color, adds to its historical authenticity and allure. This vibrant shade was highly sought after during the Roman period, symbolizing both beauty and serenity. The everted, folded rim, meticulously crafted, further enhances the piece's elegance and refined form. While the unguentarium displays a fragmented pontil mark causing it to lean, it remains remarkably intact, bearing witness to its resilience and the enduring legacy of ancient craftsmanship. The encrustation within the vessel adds a layer of history and intrigue, offering a glimpse into its past usage. This turquoise glass unguentarium, a tangible link to the ancient Roman world, stands as a testament to the artistry of ancient glassmakers and the refined tastes of the Roman era. Its captivating form, rich color, and historical significance make it a true treasure, worthy of adorning any discerning collector's collection. **Condition:** Excellent, with a fragmented pontil mark causing a slight lean and encrustation inside. **Estimated Price:** 100 Euro - 200 Euro

81 **Title:** Roman Cotton Reel Unguentarium **Era:** Roman, Circa 2nd - 3rd Century AD **Medium:** Glass **Dimensions:** H: 4 cm **Description:** This exquisite Roman cotton reel unguentarium, crafted from iridescent glass, exudes an enchanting charm that transcends time. Its distinctive form, with a wide everted flat rim, flattened base, and marble-like effect, embodies the artistry and craftsmanship of ancient Roman glassmakers. Dating back to the 2nd - 3rd Century AD, this piece exemplifies the refined tastes and sophisticated lifestyle of the Roman era. Cotton reel unguentaria were commonly used to hold precious perfumes, oils, or powders, and their delicate forms often reflected the wealth and status of their owners. The unguentarium's iridescent glass, with its mesmerizing color and rich encrustations, adds to its historical authenticity and allure. This unique effect, caused by the scattering of light from microscopic particles within the glass, lends the piece a touch of mystique and allure. The unguentarium's cotton reel form, with its distinctively flattened base and wide, flat rim, further enhances its elegance and refined form. This shape was particularly popular during the Roman period, symbolizing both beauty and practicality. In remarkable condition, this cotton reel unguentarium remains intact, bearing witness to its resilience and the enduring legacy of ancient craftsmanship. The rich iridescence and marble-like effect of the glass make it a true treasure, worthy of adorning any discerning collector's collection. **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Condition:** Excellent condition. **Estimated Price:** 150 Euro - 300 Euro

82 **Item Description:** **Roman Glass Perfume Bottle****
**Era:** Ancient Roman Glass (100 AD - 400 AD) **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repairs. Intact, displaying numerous pinprick bubbles; exterior shows signs of dulling, pitting, and brilliant iridescence, while the interior presents soil encrustation and patchy weathering. **Size:** 8.2
**Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land, "The Grandson Collection," within legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating Price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro

50

83 **Item Description** Unguentarium **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 100 AD-400 AD **Condition** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size** Height: 4.3 cm
**Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "" The Grandson Collection"" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price** 150 Euro - 300 Euro "

50

84 **Item Description:** **Roman Glass Perfume Bottle****
**Era:** Ancient Roman Glass (100 AD - 400 AD) **Condition:** Good, despite a large weathered chip in the rim, severe pitting of surface bubbles, thick creamy weathering around the rim, dulling, and brilliant iridescence. **Size:** 12.2 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land, "The Grandson Collection," within legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating Price:** 150 Euro - 300 Euro

50

85 **Item Description** Unguentarium **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 100 AD-400 AD **Condition** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size** Height: 5.5 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "" The Grandson Collection"" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price** 150 Euro - 300 Euro "

50

86 **Item Description** Unguentarium **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 100 AD-400 AD **Condition** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size** Height: 7.5 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land " The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price** 120 Euro - 240 Euro

50

87 **Item Description:** **Roman Lacrimal** **Era:** Ancient Roman Glass (100 AD - 300 AD) **Date:** 1st-3rd Century AD **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repairs. **Size:** Approximately 9 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land, "The Grandson Collection," within legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating Price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro

50

88 **Item Description:** **Roman Glass Perfume Bottle****
**Era:** Ancient Roman Glass (100 AD - 200 AD) **Date:** 1st-2nd Century AD **Condition:** Excellent, with numerous bubbles and blowing striations, dulling, slight pitting, patches of iridescence, and thick creamy brown weathering around the neck and mouth. Free from chips and noticeable repairs. **Size:** 11.2 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land, "The Grandson Collection," within legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating Price:** 150 Euro - 300 Euro

50

89 **Item Description:** **Free-Blown Glass Unguentarium****
**Era:** Ca. 100 AD **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repairs. **Size:** H: 12 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land, "The Grandson Collection," within legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating Price:** 100 Euro - 200 Euro

50

90 **Item Description:** **Roman Glass Perfume Bottle****
**Era:** Ancient Roman Glass (100 AD - 200 AD) **Date:** 1st-2nd Century AD **Condition:** Excellent, with numerous bubbles and blowing striations, dulling, slight pitting, patches of iridescence, and thick creamy brown weathering around the neck and mouth. Free from chips and noticeable repairs. **Size:** 7.5 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land, "The Grandson Collection," within legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating Price:** 100 Euro - 200 Euro

50

91 **Item Description:** **Elongated Unguentarium** **Era:** Roman, 1st-early 2nd Century C.E. **Date:** 1st-early 2nd Century C.E. **Condition:** Outstanding, perfectly intact, and free from rim chips or repairs. **Size:** H: 10 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land, "The Grandson Collection," within legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating Price:** 200 Euro - 400 Euro

50

92 Item Description: Oinochoe The oinochoe features a piriform body on a convex base with a short cylindrical neck and a trefoil rim. It includes one handle attached from the shoulder to the rim. The decoration consists of opaque yellow and turquoise patterns. There are three yellow spiral rings at the upper part of the body, two above the base, and a horizontal zigzag pattern in yellow and turquoise at the center of the body. An opaque yellow trail is also present around the edge of the rim. Condition: Condition details not provided. **Size:** H: 10 cm Provenance: Cf. Grose, D. F., Toledo Museum of Art, New York, 1989, p. 149, no. 114 (color plate p. 96). Israeli, Y., Israel Museum, 2003, p. 59, no. 46 Estimating Price: 800 Euro - 1200 Euro

50

93 Item Description: Ancient Greek Core-Formed Glass Amphoriskos Era: Ca. 6th to 4th century BCE A stunning example of a core-formed glass amphoriskos from Ancient Greece, believed to date back to the 6th to 4th century BCE. This vessel, originally used to hold aromatic oils, exhibits an elegant form with a piriform body subtly contoured with vertical ribs. It features twin trail handles gracefully joining the shoulder to the neck and a gently flaring rim, all atop a small circular trailed base knob. The vessel's decoration is exquisite, showcasing a cobalt blue body wound with tangerine yellow-orange and white trails in both threadlike and bold applications, forming a close-knit feathered pattern. A white trail encircles the rim, contributing to its opulent appearance. Condition: Condition details not provided. **Size:** H: 9 cm Provenance: Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land, "The Grandson Collection," within legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. Estimating Price: 800 Euro - 1200 Euro

50

94 Item Description: Roman Iridescent Clear Glass Unguentarium .Era: 1st-2nd century AD A Roman iridescent clear glass unguentarium dating back to the 1st-2nd century AD. It features a flat, everted rim, a slender neck with a slightly pinched-in joint leading to the pear-shaped body, standing at a height of (9.5 cm). Condition: Intact with no damage to the glass. Some light brown encrustation is present on the exterior, specifically to one side, the neck, and the base. Provenance: Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land, "The Grandson Collection," within legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. Estimating Price: 120 Euro - 240 Euro. **Size:** H: 9.5 cm

50

95 Item Description: Amber Unguentarium .Era: Roman, 1st-2nd Century C.E. An amber-colored Unguentarium measuring 9.5 cm with light iridescence. Condition: Condition details not provided. Provenance: Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land, "The Grandson Collection," within legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. Estimating Price: 300 Euro - 500 Euro

50

96 Item Description: Amber Unguentarium .Era: Roman, 1st-2nd Century C.E. An amber-colored Unguentarium measuring 8 cm with light iridescence. Condition: Condition details not provided. Provenance: Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land, "The Grandson Collection," within legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. Estimating Price: 500Euro - 1000 Euro

50

97 **Item Description:** Large conical-bodied unguentarium, Roman, 2nd-3rd century C.E. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. **Size:** 8.2 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land " The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating Price:** 300 Euro - 500 Euro.

50

98 Group of 6 of Ancient Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century CE. Variety of Sizes and Colors . Estimate: 300 Euro- 600 Euro

50

99 **Item Description:** Ancient Roman glass flasks, 1st-2nd century C.E. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. **Size:** 10.4 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land " The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating Price:** 200 Euro - 300 Euro.

50

100 **Item Description:** Roman glass perfume flask, 100 CE - 300 CE **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. **Size:** 10 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land " The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating Price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro

50

101 **Item Description** Unguentarium **Era** Ancient Roman Glass, 100 AD-400 AD **Condition** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair, maintaining its historical integrity. Client is free to request more detailed photos by email to scrutinize the condition closely. **Size** H: 4 cm **Provenance** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "" The Grandson Collection"" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands **Estimating Price** 100 Euro - 200 Euro "

50

102 **Item Description:** Ancient Roman glass unguentarium, 1st-3rd century C.E. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. **Size:** H:4 cm. **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land " The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating Price:** 100 Euro - 200 Euro

50

103 **Item Description:** Roman glass perfume bottle, 1st century C.E. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. **Size:** 3.5 cm. **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land " The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating Price:** 150 Euro - 300 Euro

50

104 **Item Description:** Roman glass perfume bottle, 1st century C.E. [Image of Roman glass perfume bottle] **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. **Size:** ** H: 9 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land " The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating Price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro

50

105 **Item Description:** Ancient Roman turquoise glass unguentarium, 1st-2nd century C.E. **Condition:** Fine condition, except for fragmented pontil mark causing the bottle to lean. **Size:** H:9 cm. **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land " The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating Price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro

50

106 **Item Description:** Phoenician Glass **Condition:** Intact, with some dulling, pitting, and faint iridescence. **Size:** H: 12 cm. **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land " The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating Price:** 1000 Euro - 2000 Euro

50

107 "Looped Handle Amphoriskos. Hellenistic Period 2nd-1st Century B.C. 9 cm. Sand-Core formed vessel. Deep blue ground with yellow and white applied threads. Translucent green handles. Deep blue mended base and rim. Absolutely superb, intact and no signs of repair. Cf. for a nearly identical piece - Ancient Glass in the Newark Museum, Auth 25. Estimated Value $2,500 - 4,000 Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land." **Size:** H: 9 cm.

50

108 Looped Handle Amphoriskos. Hellenistic Period 2nd-1st Century B.C. 12 cm. Sand-Core formed vessel. Deep blue ground with yellow and white applied threads. Translucent green handles. Deep blue mended base and rim. Absolutely superb, intact and no signs of repair. Cf. for a nearly identical piece - Ancient Glass in the Newark Museum, Auth 25. Estimated Value $2,500 - 4,000 Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land. **Size:** H: 12 cm

50

109 A ROMAN MARBLED GLASS FLASK Circa 1st Century A.D. Free-blown from cane sections of aubergine and white, forming a marbled pattern of irregular festoons, the swelling body tapering to a pointed base, with a long narrow cylindrical neck, the funnel-shaped mouth with an in-folded rim Estimating price 1000 Euro - 2000 Euro **Size:** H: 24 cm

50

110 **Item Description:** Roman glass candlestick unguentarium, 2nd-3rd century C.E. [Image of Roman glass candlestick unguentarium] **Condition:** Intact, with some iridescences and earthy accretions. **Size:** 12 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land " The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating Price:** 150 Euro - 300 Euro

50

111 **Item Description:** Roman glass candlestick unguentarium, 2nd-3rd century C.E. **Condition:** Very fine, complete and intact, with good glass, encrustations, and some iridescence. **Size:** 12.5 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating Price:** 300 Euro - 500 Euro

50

112 slightly iridescent, this kohl (eye paint) tube was originally blown from translucent light green glass. The body was folded, then decorated with one uninterrupted thread from bottom to top, applied counterclockwise over twenty one revolutions while the piece was held at the bottom of the "U" with a pontil (mark still visible). The rims were carefully infolded. Small coil handles were affixed to each side. There is no suggestion that this may have had the third "basket handle" typical of later productions. Following Stern's classification (2001), this kohl tube is Type 1, Class C.2 (double), which would place it in Palestine, mid fourth to mid fifth century H: 12.5 cm Estimate: 2000 Euro-4000 Euro

50

113 **Item description:** Ancient iridescent Roman glass bottle used for medical purposes, ca. 3rd century. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. Client is free to ask for more detailed photos by email and can look deeply in the photos to know more details about condition. **Size:** 3 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating price:** 150Euro - 300 Euro

50

114 **Item description:** Ancient Roman unguentarium, y726, 1st-2nd century AD. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, free from chips and noticeable repair. Client is free to ask for more detailed photos by email and can look deeply in the photos to know more details about condition. **Size:** H. 10.5 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating price:** 200 Euro - 300 Euro

50

115 **Item description:** Ancient Roman glass perfume bottle, late 1st-3rd century CE. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, with the exception of a large weathered chip in the rim. Some severe pitting of surface bubbles, thick creamy weathering around the rim, dulling, and brilliant iridescence. Client is free to ask for more detailed photos by email and can look deeply in the photos to know more details about condition. **Size:** 10.3 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro

50

116 **Item description:** Ancient Roman pale blue glass unguentarium toilet bottle, Roman eastern empire, circa 2nd-3rd century AD. **Condition:** Outstanding quality, complete and intact, with silvery iridescence over part of the body. Client is free to ask for more detailed photos by email and can look deeply in the photos to know more details about condition. **Size:** H. 10 cm **Provenance:** Acquired from the prestigious Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from Holy Land "The Grandson Collection" within the legal parameters for importation to the Netherlands. **Estimating price:** 120 Euro - 240 Euro

50

117 Gorgeous Ancient Roman Glass Bracelet 1st-3rd Century CE, with Exceptional Glass Inlay. Beautiful ancient Roman glass bracelet of a quality only the most wealthy could afford. Bracelet boasts exceptional glass inlay including a black & white twisted glass detail running atop the outside of bracelet punctuated with 5 inlays of turquoise glass. Choice condition, amazing quality 7.8 cm in diameter. Estimated Value $700 - 1,000 Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land.**Size:** H: 8 cm

50

118 Gorgeous Ancient Roman Glass Bracelet 1st-3rd Century CE, with Exceptional Glass Inlay. Beautiful ancient Roman glass bracelet of a quality only the most wealthy could afford. Bracelet boasts exceptional glass inlay including a black & white twisted glass detail running atop the outside of bracelet punctuated with 5 inlays of turquoise glass. Choice condition,**Size:** H:9 cm. Estimated Value $700 - 1,000 Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land.

50

119 Ancient Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century AD Estimate 100 Euro- 200 Euro

25

120 Ancient Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century AD 100 Euro- 200 Euro **Size:** H: 8 cm

25

121 Ancient Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century AD 100 Euro- 200 Euro **Size:** H: 8 cm

25

122 Ancient Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century AD 100 Euro- 200 Euro **Size:** H: 8 cm

25

123 Ancient Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century AD 100 Euro- 200 Euro **Size:** H: 8 cm

25

124 Ancient Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century AD 100 Euro- 200 Euro **Size:** H: 7 cm

25

125 Ancient Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century AD 100 Euro- 200 Euro **Size:** H: 8 cm

25

126 Ancient Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century AD 100 Euro- 200 Euro **Size:** H: 6 cm

25

127 Ancient Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century AD 100 Euro- 200 Euro **Size:** H: 6 cm

25

128 Ancient Roman Glass Bracelet 1st-3rd Century CE, Remarkable in Their Near Contemporary Appearance. Great pair of ancient glass bracelets that truly have a contemporary feel. The brown/burgundy glass bracelet has appealing soft ridges surrounding the outer bracelet and no other ornamentation. Likely created by pinching at regular intervals while still hot. Estimate: 500 USD- 800 USD **Size:** H: 6 cm

50

129 Looped Handle Amphoriskos. Hellenistic Period 2nd-1st Century B.C. 12.5 cm. Sand-Core formed vessel. Deep blue ground with yellow and white applied threads. Translucent green handles. Deep blue mended base and rim. Absolutely superb, intact and no signs of repair. Cf. for a nearly identical piece - Ancient Glass in the Newark Museum, Auth 25. Estimated Value $2,500 - 4,000 Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land.

50

130 Twin Handle Amphoriskos. Hellenistic 2nd-early 1st Century B.C. 16 cm. Sand-core glass formed vessel featuring azure blue body decorated with festoon pattern of lighter blue. Neck, flared rim and lower portion with applied horizontal bands of blue and gold. Handles are cream as is the knob at the base. Intact with no obvious signs of repair noted. An outstanding glass vessel! Cf. Toledo, Amphoriskos form III: 2B as defined on p. 129. Estimated Value $2,000 - 2,500 Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land.

50

131 Impressive Ancient Roman Bracelet Only the Most Wealthy Could Afford in Choice Condition. 1st-3rd Century CE. Black glass bracelet with glass inlays surrounding the outer edge This is a large bracelet, 9.5 cm in diameter. We note a professional repaired break in bracelet all but obscured by the especially fine iridescence. Estimated Value $500 - 900 Half-Century Formed Collection of Ancient Glass from the Holy Land

50

132 Roman Glass Bracelets 1st-3rd Century CE, Remarkable in Their Near Contemporary Appearance. Great pair of ancient glass bracelets that truly have a contemporary feel. The brown/burgundy glass bracelet has appealing soft ridges surrounding the outer bracelet and no other ornamentation. Likely created by pinching at regular intervals while still hot.

50