359 Greece, Kapodistrias, Official Government Gazette, 5 February 1830. Detailed index of exchange rate fix between European currencies and their divisions, and the new national Greek currency - the 'Phoenix' and subdivisions, the 'Lepton.' Document also includes reports for the Greek Navy and the state's effort for its economic empowerment through the newly established National Bank of Greece. A very important and historical original document of the highest importance and great addition to any advanced collection of Modern Greek coins.

400

360 Greece, Kapodistrias, Circular No 72, Nafplion, 17 February 1830. Government Resolution related to currency counterfeiting and alteration from individuals within the mint or outside. The document outlines the criteria, procedures and penalties which will be imposed on the responsible party. The penalties are fines and imprisonment to various degrees (from two years up to life imprisonment) with shackles. A fascinating document from the infancy of the modern Greek state.

240

361 Greece, Kapodistrias, Appendix No 32, Official Government Gazette, resolution 1018, 25 March 1830 and 31 March 1830. Relates to the operation of customs offices, outlining customs clearance, transit and transportation procedures. Analytical index of merchandise and their respective duties in national currency (phoenix and lepta). A great piece of trade history from the infancy of the modern Greek state.

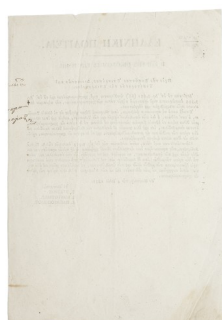

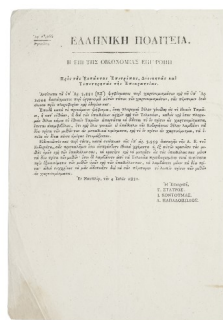

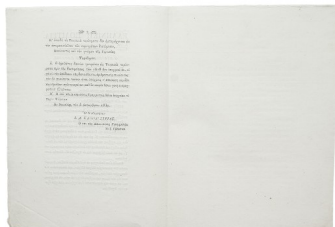

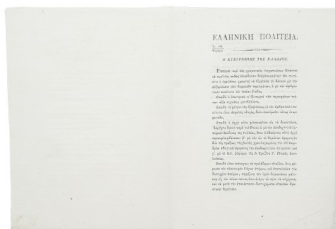

240

362 Greece, Kapodistrias, Customs document, 1 May 1830, report of the merchandise and their prices in the national currency (phoenix and lepta) which arrived/departed from three different ships. Keravnos (Thunder) sailing to Tinos island, Artemis arriving from Trieste, Fimi (Fame) from Nafplion. An interesting period document of both trade and naval interest.

80

363 Greece, Kapodistrias, Customs balance sheet of May 1830. Balance sheet outlining all imports and exports for the month. Detailed document which includes individual prices of goods as well as revenues from duties and expenditure for that month. A very attractive and interesting document.

240

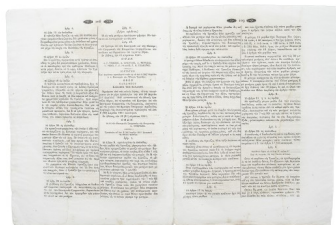

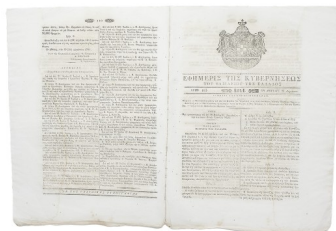

364 Greece, Kapodistrias, Resolution No 188, 5 October 1830. Declaration that the payment of any loan in Ottoman currency must be executed in legally circulating currency. It is important to note that Ottoman currency was forbidden by the Greek state. An interesting piece of monetary history highlighting Greece's struggle of independence and new identity.

240

365 Greece, Kapodistrias, Official Bulletin of the Greek State, No 13,065, Nafplion, 4 July 1831. Order to pay the wages of public servants 2/3 in coins and 1/3 in banknotes. During this time, there was great mistrust by citizens for paper currency and this law helped the government reduce its dependency on silver coinage. A truly fascinating document which highlights the struggles of Kapodistrias in forming a new and operational state. According to our research, only one other example has been sold in the past 15 years by Vergos Auctions and housed by the museum of the Bank of Greece

240

366 Greece, Otho, Government Gazette No 16, 23 August 1841. Relates to the issues of establishment and operation of the National Bank of Greece. 160

454 Greece, King George I, 1863-1913. AV Essai Pattern 10 Drachmai, 1869 E (ESSAI), Paris mint, with "E" instead of "A" (mintmark) on the obverse and "E" on reverse below wreath, by Désiré-Alber Barre (KM-E10; Divo P74, RRR; IV13). There are very few coins of the Greek series that are rare to a point where someone considers themselves lucky to handle or encounter. This is one of the pieces which falls into this category. An example displaying original fields, underlying luster with wear visible only on high-points. A real rarity. At the time of Divo's publication in 1969, the author mentioned that he knew of only 3 examples, one was in the Farouk Collection and the other two in private collections, of this extremely rare pattern. Graded XF45 NGC. Only one other graded example.

502 Greece, King Constantine I, 1913-1917 and 1920-1922. AR Pattern Essai Drachma, 1913, Paris mint, reeded edge, by G. Iakovidis. Obv. ΚΩΝΣΤΑΝΤΙΝΟΣ ΒΑΣΙΛΕΥΣ ΤΩΝ ΕΛΛΗΝΩΝ, laureate head left, below truncation engraver's name Γ. ΙΑΚΩΒΙΔΗΣ, date 1913 and without ESSAI. Rev. ΒΑΣΙΛΕΙΟΝ ΤΗΣ ΕΛΛΑΔΟΣ, ΔΡΑΧΜΗ, Greek arms on crowned mantle, with ESSAI (incuse) on the right of denomination (KM-E31; Divo P99, RRR). An example combining exceptional strike, eye-appeal and rarity. Possibly unique in private hands and of great historical significance. At the time of Divo's publication in 1969, the author mentioned of one known example, in the Musée Monétaire Paris. We are privileged to offer the second known example of this remarkable numismatic treasure in its first public auction appearance in more than four decades. Moreover our numismatists have never seen any example for sale, either in auction or private sale. This presents a unique opportunity to acquire such an extreme rarity. Possibly unique in private hands. On an academic and historical level, this coin provides a fascinating story. In October of 1913 the Hellenic Government commissioned the engraving of a new monetary series based from a portrait of G. Iakovidis created in the Royal Palace in August 1913. The plan was to strike silver drachmas, 2 drachmai and gold 20 drachmai. However the project was abandoned due to funding difficulties. This pattern is the only known example of this adventurous but ill fated endeavour and the final numismatic engraving of G. Iakovidis. It is interesting to mention that this portrait type was re-attempted by his friend and colleague, C. Dimitriadis for the 1915 ESSAI issues which also did not lead to fruition. The 1913 ESSAI is incomparably rarer than the 1915 issue. Graded MS64 NGC. From the Collection of a Gentleman. Ex Spink No. 5 Auction, 17-18 May 1979, lot 255. The collector purchased the coin 31 January 1980 from D. Loulakakis (private sale).
