434 Lambros Pavlos, Anecdotal Coins of the Medieval Kingdom of Cyprus, Athens 1876. Missing soft cover, Loose, 108p. 9 fine pl. Fair condition, important and rare original edition. The publication is the third part of the numismatic series of the Library of Historical Studies. The author describes the most important of the 349 coins in his personal collection originating from Cyprus, most of which were then anecdotal. In addition to a detailed description of the inscriptions, the illustrations, the different types (superfires, grosses, dinars, hornets), the metal and the exact weight of each coin are mentioned. The described coins date from the reign of Isaac Duke Comnenus (1184-1191), cover the entire Lusignan dynasty (1191-1489) and include some Venetians minted during the siege of Famagusta (1570-71). This treatise was published for the first time in the second volume of K. N. Satha's Medieval Library in 1873. At the end, the reader will find an appendix with artistic illustrations of the two sides of Cypriot coins.
