740 Ancient Amulet. Ceremonial or religious use. Inscription is indecipherable. only known specimen worldwide! Gold rim. Roman Provincial UNCERTAIN EAST. Levantine region or Egypt, circa 3rd-4th centuries. Unpublished and unique. It is an extremely important piece and has the greatest religious-historical interest. It is beautifully carved and deliberately not cleaned. It was a multifaceted religion characterized by the syncretism of Egyptian, Greek and Roman mythology and philosophy, Mithraism, Judaism and early Christianity. As with any hidden mystery religion, unfortunately, we have little understanding of its teachings, which are not revealed to outsiders and are therefore shrouded in darkness. Amulets were mostly manufactured in the form of hard stone jewelry and small lead pendants, the latter of which were undoubtedly worn by the lower classes, where demon worship gained great popularity. As with any hidden mystery religion, unfortunately, we have very little information about its teachings, which are not revealed to outsiders and are therefore shrouded in darkness. What we do know is that the various forms of Gnosticism in general and the worship of Abrasax in particular, 2. to 4. it is that he had great popularity in the eastern Roman provinces between centuries.
