1 Curtis Clay Collection Lots 1-217. Regular lots starts on lot 218. - Antoninus Pius. AE 33 medallion; Curtis Clay Collection Lots 1-217. Regular lots starts on lot 218. - Antoninus Pius; 138-161 AD, Rome, 143-4 AD, Copper Medallion (red metal), 47.68g., 39 mm. Apparently unique and unpublished before its appearance in the CNG sale of March 2019. Obv: ANTONINVS AVG PIVS - P P TR P COS III IMP II Head laureate r. Rx: No legend. Phaethon, the son of Helios the Sun God, falls head first from the chariot of Helios, which he had unsuccessfully tried to drive through the sky as his father did every day, in order to prove that he too was a god. Above the falling Phaethon, the four horses of Helios attempt to escape, probably two leaping l. and two leaping right (details unclear), but they are restrained by two figures between the horses who extend their arms between the horses, probably the Dioscuri as on several Roman sarcophagi that also depict this myth of Phaethon's fall. Ex Curtis L. Clay Collection; ex CNG E439, 6 March 2019, lot 530 (before removal of heavy deposits, leading CNG to overlook the upside-down figure of Phaethon on the reverse). The correct identification of the reverse type, apparently the first representation of this myth on an ancient coin, is due to Professor Katherine Dunbabin, in response to a query from Curtis Clay. For the same obverse die coupled with a different reverse type, see Gneecchi, pl. 43.1. This medallion shows an interesting mythological type on the reverse. VF / Fine. This lot is part of our 227th Buy or Bid Sale. You can buy at the estimate now or bid lower than our estimate. Lots that have not sold at their estimate before May 14th will be sold to the highest accepted offer at 4pm CT on May 14. Check our web site to see if the lot is still available. 28 Antoninus Pius. Denarius; Antoninus Pius; 138-161 AD, Rome, 140-144 AD, Denarius, 2.53g. Cf. BMC-224 note (T.O. Mabbott Coll.). Obv: ANTONINVS AVG PI - VS P P TR P COS III Head laureate r. Rx: PIETA - S AVG Pietas standing l., dropping incense on small lighted altar and holding box at side. Ex Curtis L. Clay Collection; ex Ancient Auction House, eBay, 17 Nov. 2002. On aurei, this PIETAS type is known in two variants, both sharing the same obverse die: Pietas may sacrifice at an ordinary round altar (Strack, pl. II, 97) or at a candelabrum altar (BM pl. 5.18). A similar PIETAS AVG denarius was reported by H. Mattingly in 1940 as being in the T.O. Mabbott Collection (BMC 224 note), but unfortunately without clarifying which of the two altar variants it showed, nor was this denarius included in the sale catalogue of Mabbott's Roman coins in 1969. In any case we now know that the "round altar" variant of this type was struck in silver as well as in gold; perhaps a "candelabrum altar" denarius will also turn up some day.. VF. 106 Antoninus Pius. Sestertius; Antoninus Pius; 138-161 AD, Rome, 151-2 AD, Sestertius, 28.86g. Cf. BM-1872. Obv: IMP CAES T AEL ANTONINVS AVG PIVS P P Head laureate r. Rx: ROMA in exergue, TR POT XIII - COS IIII on l. and r., S - C across field, Roma seated l. holding spear pointing upwards, while her l. arm holds a parazonium and rests on a round shield and a prow. Ex Curtis L. Clay Collection; ex Lanz 128, 22 May 2006, lot 453. Apparently unique and the earliest known bronze coin of this issue, because it adds only T AEL to Antoninus' obverse legend, not yet T AEL HADR. The occasion for restoring these names of Hadrian's to Antoninus' coinage in 151-2 AD was probably that Antoninus finished constructing his temple of Divus Hadrian and Diva Sabina at that time, so added a reverse type showing the temple on his sestertii, usually with the appropriate legend PIETAS (see our next lot), and also added to his obverse legend first just T AEL, then T AEL HADR in a much larger and longer issue. Rx: TR POT XIIII / COS IIII in two lines in exergue, S - C across field, eight-columned temple between two palm trees, within two seated facing figures, doubtless Divus Hadrian and Diva Sabina. Ex Curtis L. Clay Collection; ex Lucernae, eBay, 5 July 2010. From the same dies as the Paris specimen, the only one known to Strack. The temple type probably commemorates Antoninus' completion of his temple for Divus Hadrian and Diva Sabina at about the time the coins were struck in 151-2 AD; at the same time and for the same reason, Antoninus also added Hadrian's names to his obverse legend, first just T AEL and then, in a much larger and longer issue, T AEL HADR. Rx: ITALIA in exergue, TR POT - COS II[I] on l. and r., S - C across field, Italia seated l. on globe, holding cornucopia and scepter. Ex Curtis L. Clay Collection. Probably the same example that Cohen-465 cites from the Herpin Collection, since he erroneously reads COS II rather than COS III in the reverse legend, according with our coin on which the third stroke of the numeral III is mostly off flan, so illegible. Moreover on other coins of this type the consular number is always III not II; and the excellent condition of our coin fits well with Herpin's reputation for having collected only coins of high quality. ITALIA is a rare type on dupondii; Strack cites just one specimen, in Vienna. The Romans knew the Earth was round before Columbus. EF. This lot is part of our 227th Buy or Bid Sale. 156 Antoninus Pius. 40-as; Antoninus Pius; 138-161 AD, Rome, 139 AD, As, 10.59g. Strack-795, pl. IX (in Florence, same dies). Obv: ANTONINVS - AVG PIVS P P Head laureate r. Rx: SC[Y] - [T]HIA on l. and r., COS II in exergue, S - C across field, Scythia standing l. holding crown and sword. Ex Curtis L. Clay Collection; ex AAH, eBay, 12 Feb. 2006. One of the rarest of the "Crown" series of bronze coins struck by Antoninus Pius in 139 AD. The standard catalogues have reported just three such SCYTHIA coins, namely a sestertius in the BM, BMC pl. 27.2; an As in Florence, illustrated by Strack pl. IX, 795; and an As in Oxford which is mentioned but not illustrated in BMC, p. 191. Ours is apparently only the fourth known coin of the type, and shares both of its dies with the As in Florence that is illustrated by Strack.. VF. This lot is part of our 227th Buy or Bid Sale. Clay Collection; ex Lanz, eBay, 9 Sept. 2011. The asses and sestertii of this Janus type are otherwise always dated COS III, 140-144 AD. Does our coin with just COS II (139 AD) show that this type was already being officially struck in 139, or is it just a mistake of an engraver working in 140-144 who wrote COS II, leaving out a stroke, when he meant COS III?. aVF. Rx: A[VG]V - S - STA (sic) on l. and r., S C in exergue, Cybele seated l. holding drum and branch. Ex Curtis L. Clay Collection; ex Bertolami, VCoins, Sept. 2018. The reverse of our coin is also illustrated, unfortunately without specifying its source, by Schmidt-Dick, Typenatlas Vol. 1, Vienna 2002, pl. 13, f5A/02. A rare type, valued at 20 francs by Cohen-126. This reverse die is also interesting for what appears to be a correction of its legend: the S of AVGVSTA was first squeezed in between Cybele's branch and the T at 3 o'clock, but was then partially removed from that location and re-engraved at 1 o'clock, just above the upper shoots of Cybele's branch.. 211 Faustina I. 40-as; Faustina I; Rome, 139-140 AD, As, 16.00g. Strack-1233 (citing Paris only), pl. XVIII (same dies). Obv: FAVSTINA AVG AN - TONINI AVG PII P P Bust draped r. Rx: SA - LVTI - [AV - G] on l. and r., Salus standing l., extending patera to snake rising from altar, and holding scepter. Ex Curtis L. Clay Collection. Seller and purchase date not recorded, but an envelope from an earlier owner of the coin recorded its purchase from F. J. Roth List, May 1988, no. 284. BMC-1131 also possesses a specimen, worn and not illustrated in their catalogue, and not listed by Strack. It seems likely that this rare As, and another similar As that adds a tree to the type, reflect concern about the illness which was to cause Faustina's death in November 140. This rare coin probably records the illness that Faustina died of. Fine. This lot is part of our 227th Buy or Bid Sale. You can buy at the estimate now or bid lower than our estimate. Rx: Eagle standing l., wings raised, one talon on scepter, holding wreath with other talon. The obverse of course is inspired by the famous denarius of Brutus. The reverse is seemingly copied from the reverse of a very rare denarius struck by Q. Pomponius Rufus in 73 BC, Cr-398/1. The very distinctive depiction of the eagle on that coin differs from that on the Koson stater only in the position of the eagle's head.. This lot is part of our 227th Buy or Bid Sale. 220 Thrace, Brutus for Civil War, Types of Lysimachus. Stater; Thrace, Brutus for Civil War, Types of Lysimachus; 44-42 BC, Stater, 8.25g. SNG Cop-1094. Obv: Diademed head of Alexander the Great r. with horn of Ammon. Rx: Athena seated l. on throne, shield behind; ΔΙ in field l., trident below. Purchased from Harlan J. Berk, March 2000. It's been suggested that at least some of these posthumous Lysimachus staters, typically assigned to the period of the Mithridatic War, were in fact struck by Brutus during the Civil War. While this coin is in the style of Lysimachus, it was apparently struck at a city controlled by Brutus. We must assume that Brutus continued this style deliberately, because coins like this were accepted as currency at the time. MS. This lot is part of our 227th Buy or Bid Sale. Obv: TI CAESAR DIVI AVG F AVGVSTVS, Laureate head of Tiberius right. Rx: DIVOS AVGVST [D]IVI F, Laureate head of Divus Augustus right, six-pointed star above. For an astronomical interpretation of the star on this aureus, see Robert S. McIvor, "The Star on Roman Coins", Journal of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, Vol. 99, No. 3, June 2005, pp. 87-91: "This coin associates the star with the constellation of Aquila and with Augustus and the year 2 BC and this specific information on sky location and chronology raises the possibility that this had been an unusual star appearance in that constellation at that time. Since the comet coin inscribed to the "divine Julius" was prompted by an authentic comet appearance, it seems likely that these star coins inscribed to the "divine Augustus" were also inspired by an authentic celestial event." Obv: Sea Turtle with smooth shell with dotted center. Rx: Incuse with four sunken segments. This stater is struck in ultra-high relief, perfectly centered, with a flawless head of the sea turtle sharply evident. This is one of the finest examples of this early period recorded, with the high relief of this coin almost unknown. Ex Triton XXVII, 9 January 2024, lot 187; ex HJB 216, July 2021, lot 56. This is one of the earliest Aegean Turtles, and pictures in ANS museum notes. Struck in high relief, showing everything, not only the dots on the shell, but also the turtle's head, both front legs, and portions of the rear legs, something rarely seen on these issues, which concentrated on weight, rarely centering. 485 Septimius Severus. Denarius; Septimius Severus; 193-211 AD, Rome, 206 AD, Denarius, BM-343, C-253 (60 Fr.), RIC-274 (R2). Obv: SEVERVS PIVS AVG Head laureate r. Rx: LAETITIA TEMPORVM The spina of the Circus Maximus decorated as a ship facing l., with the turning posts at its prow and stern, a sail mounted on the central obelisk, and the spina's other monuments visible in between; above the ship, four quadrigas racing l.; below, seven animals: an ostrich at l. and bear (indistinct on this specimen) at r.; between them a lion and a lioness chasing a wild ass and a panther attacking a bison. Rare: only three specimens in Reka Devnia hoard. This famous type commemorates the chariot races and animal hunt that took place on the seventh and final day of Severus' Saecular Games in 204 AD, as described in the inscriptional acts of those games which were found in Rome in the 1870s and 1930s, and also in the text of Dio Cassius, tacked on to his description of Severus' Decennalian Games of 202 AD by his Byzantine epitomator as we can now see. The games consisted of chariot races, indicated by the racing quadrigas in the coin type, and then a hunt of 700 beasts, 100 each of "lions, lionesses, panthers, bears, bisons, wild asses, ostriches", which were released in large groups from a receptacle shaped like a boat. As C. Clay was the first to observe, the seven kinds of animals named by both Dio and the inscriptional acts are also depicted in the coin type: on good specimens, especially the aureus BMC pl. 34.4, the ostrich and the bear are clear, the lion has a mane, the ass has long ears, the bison has horns and a hump. Two large felines remain, of which we may suppose that the one accompanying the lion is the lioness and the one attacking the bison is the panther.. aEF / gVF. Obv: CABINIA TRANKVΛINA AV Bust draped r., wearing stephane, the hair falling onto neck arranged in two horizontal ridges. Rx: MHTPO KAICA B NE around, ET Δ in exergue, Mt. Argaeus, without pellet in field. Rare silver drachm of Tranquillina at Caesarea, unknown until 1978 when Sydenham/Malloy-617aa reported two specimens, in Leu 18, 5 May 1977, lot 373 and the Burbules Collection. Recently several dozen further specimens of this rare drachm have appeared on the market, mostly of Year 4 like the two Sydenham/Malloy pieces, but also several of Year 5. The Year 4 pieces all seem to come from only three obverse dies, one without stephane and with a nest of braids on the neck, and two with stephane and without the nest of braids. The Year 4 reverse dies vary in the abbreviation of the legend, KAIC B N or KAICA B NE, and in the placement of a pellet in the field left of Mt. Argeus on some dies. The three Year 5 drachms come from a fourth obverse die, and from two reverse dies, both with a pellet in upper right rather than upper left field.. EF. This lot is part of our 227th Buy or Bid Sale. 686 Chinese Early Qing Bronze Daoist Figure of Zhang Daoling; Chinese Early Qing Bronze Daoist Figure of Zhang Daoling, ca. 18th Century. Zhang Daoling is said to be the legendary founder of Daoism as a religion in the Han Dynasty. Legend has it that at the age of 108 after studying the works of Lao Tzu, the founder of Daoism, the great master himself visited Zhang in a revelation to reveal the Book of the Dao and the correct doctrine. Zhang adopted the Daoist "Tiger Spirit" method. Hence, he is depicted riding a Tiger as an emblem of his mastery. The piece is a dynamically modeled censor and exceedingly well finished in excellent condition. A rarer type and a superb period piece. H. 8 1/2" L. 7 1/2" (21.6 cm x 19 cm)... 687 Chinese Late Qing Bronze Mounted Figure of Guan Yu; Chinese Late Qing Bronze Mounted Figure of Guan Yu, 19th Century. Guan Yu is often considered the god of war in Chinese mythology and folk religion but worshipped generally as a protective deity. Historically Guan Yu was a cunning and famous general during the Han Dynasty. With his red face and long black beard in paintings, he is one of the most recognizable Chinese folk deities. In this period example, the god is mounted on a horse in traditional Chinese armor holding a halberd (likely a later replacement). This particular type was widely copied for the tourist trade, but this present example is a rarer period piece from the late Qing dynasty. H. 10" L. 8 1/4" (25.4 cm x 21 cm)...
