Versteigerungsbedingungen

Die Auktion erfolgt gegen Bezahlung in Schweizer Franken mit einem Aufgeld von 20% auf den Zuschlagspreis. Bei Auslieferungen in der Schweiz erhöht sich der Endpreis (Zuschlagspreis und Aufgeld und Versandkosten) für Silber- und Bronzemünzen sowie Medaillen um die MWST von 8.1%. Im Ausland erhobene Gebühren irgendwelcher Art sind vom Käufer zu bezahlen. Der Gesamtpreis ist nach erfolgtem Zuschlag fällig. Das Eigentumsrecht wird erst mit der vollständigen Bezahlung vom Käufer erworben. Für verspätete Zahlung wird ein Verzugszins von 1% pro Monat in Rechnung gestellt. Schriftliche Gebote haben Vorrang.

Jeder Ersteigerer verpflichtet sich, für die durch ihn getätigte Erwerbung persönlich zu haften. Er kann nicht geltend machen, im Auftrag Dritter gehandelt zu haben. Der Zuschlag verpflichtet zur Abnahme.

Die Beschreibung der Stücke und deren Erhaltungsgrade erfolgt nach bestem Wissen und Gewissen. Die Echtheit der Stücke wird garantiert. Begründete Reklamationen können nur berücksichtigt werden, wenn sie innerhalb von acht Tagen nach Erhalt der Stücke erfolgen. Die Zertifizierung durch Dritte (z.B. NGC, PCGS, ANACS, usw.) ist kein ausreichender Grund für eine Rückgabe der gekauften Münzen. Das Gutachten des Internationalen Büros zur Bekämpfung von Falschmünzen (IBSCC) der International Association of Professional Numismatists (IAPN) gilt als massgebend für Fragen der Echtheit.

Der Versand der ersteigerten Stücke erfolgt nach vollständiger Bezahlung der Rechnung auf Kosten und Risiko des Käufers. Im Übrigen kommen die ortsüblichen Gantbedingungen zur Anwendung.

Der Versand in die Russische Föderation erfolgt ausdrücklich auf eigenes Risiko des Empfängers.

Gerichtsstand für alle Verfahren ist Zürich I. Nur der deutsche Text der Auktionsbedingungen ist rechtsgültig. Durch Abgabe eines mündlichen oder schriftlichen Gebotes werden die vorliegenden Auktionsbedingungen anerkannt.

Conditions générales de vente

La vente aux enchères s'effectue en francs suisses. Au prix d'adjudication s'ajoute une commission d'achat de 20%. En cas de livraison en Suisse, au prix d'achat global (comprenant le prix d'adjudication, les frais acheteurs, et les frais d'expédition) doit être appliqué la T.V.A. Suisse de 8.1% sur les monnaies et les médailles d'argent et de bronze. Tous droits et taxes dus à l'étranger sont à la charge de l'acheteur. Le paiement est dû immédiatement après l'adjudication. 1% d'intérêt sera facturé en cas de retard. Le transfert de propriété n'est effectif qu'après le paiement intégral. A montant égal, les ordres d'achat écrits sont prioritaires.

Chaque adjudicataire s'engage pour ses achats, et il ne peut prétendre avoir porté enchères pour le compte d'un tiers. L'adjudication est un engagement irrévocable pour l'acquéreur.

Les descriptions des lots, et leurs états de conservation, sont données en bonne foi. L'authenticité des monnaies est garantie. Toute réclamation justifiée sera prise en compte pendant les huit jours qui suivent la remise des monnaies. La certification par des tiers (p. ex. NGC, PCGS, ANACS, etc.) n'est pas un motif suffisant pour retourner les pièces achetées. L'avis du Bureau international de lutte contre les fausses monnaies (IBSCC) de l'Association internationale des numismates professionnels (IAPN) est considéré comme faisant autorité pour les questions d'authenticité. L'envoi des lots adjugés sera effectué, après paiement, aux frais et aux risques de l'acheteur.

La livraison à la Russie est expressément soumise au propre risque du destinataire.

Les conditions locales de vente aux enchères seront appliquées. Seul le texte allemand de ces conditions de vente fait foi. En tant que de besoin, le tribunal responsable sera celui de Zürich I. Tout enchérisseur, oral ou écrit, reconnaît avoir pris connaissance des conditions générales de vente cidessus.

Conditions of Sale

The auction sales are in Swiss Francs with the addition of buyer's premium of 20% on the hammer price. For all lots delivered in Switzerland there is an additional Swiss VAT of 8.1% due on the hammer price and on the buyer's premium for silver and bronze coins, and for medals. The purchaser is responsible for all taxes and fees due for delivery of lots outside of Switzerland. Payment is due immediately following conclusion of the sale. Full title to purchases is only obtained upon full payment. A charge of 1% per month will be assessed for delayed payments. Written bids take preference over room bids.

Buyers are personally responsible for their own purchases and cannot claim to act on the account or instructions of a third party. Adjudication occurs on the fall of the hammer and commits the bidder to acceptance of the lot.

The lot descriptions, including the degree of preservation, are opinions and made in good faith. The authenticity of all coins is guaranteed. Justified complaints can only be considered if made within eight days of receipt of the pieces. Third party grading services certification (e.g. NGC, PCGS, ANACS, etc.) is not sufficient cause for any return of purchased items. The opinion of the International Bureau for the Suppression of Counterfeit Coins (IBSCC) of the International Association of Professional Numismatists (IAPN) will be deemed definitive for issues of authenticity. Upon receipt of full payment, shipment of lots will be arranged for the purchaser at his expense and risk. In general, the usual conditions applied to auctions held in Zürich apply here.

Shipping to the Russian Federation will only be made at the recipient's own risk.

Exclusive jurisdiction for any legal proceedings shall be Zürich I. Although the Conditions of Sale are provided in English, French and German, only the German text is legally valid. The bidder accepts these conditions of sale by the submission of a bid, whether verbal or written.

Foreword

A little more than a year ago, on 5 November 2023, in our Auction 29, we presented the second part (lots 551–940) of the Collection sans Pareille of Ancient Greek Fractions. The first part, lots 1–550, had been sold in our Auction 26, which took place on 26 May of the same year. Now we have the honour to present the final part of this fabulous collection as lots 941–1692 in our specially dedicated eSale, Obolos 35. As before, thanks to DG's photographic skill, all the coins look their enlarged best, no matter their condition. In addition, unlike the first two sales, this one includes a few bronzes, which were acquired for study purposes.

The sale begins with a pleasing lot of 5 coins of the Coriosolites (941 – which the owner must have acquired because of the totally un-Greek stylistic exuberance!) and then moves on to Massalia (942–953), Magna Graecia (954–1032), Sicily (1033–1119), the Black Sea area, Thrace and Macedon (1120–1240). Lots 1241–1358 cover Classical Greece, extending from Herakleia Trachineia in Thessaly to Koressos on the Cycladic island of Keos. Then we are off to Asia Minor with lots 1359–1661; beginning with a group of coins from uncertain mints (1359–1376) we proceed from Paphlagonia (1360) through Cilicia (1607–1661). Finally, the last 30 lots, 1662 to 1692 range from Cyprus to Cyrene.

Frankly, there are so many really interesting coins in this group that if we started singling them out we would have to fill pages and pages! And there are numerous coins that have intriguing pedigrees – and those are only the ones we found, further research may turn up even more. To sum up, this last portion of a special and unique collection proves just how remarkable that collection was. Filled with 'tiny' coins that were beautiful and plain, known and unknown, simple and mysterious, unusually fine and worn, there will never be another collection like this! We wish the best of luck to all those bidding in this sale.

Ex Vinchon 11 April 1988, 170c (part of lot).

973.
Tarentum. Circa 325-280 BC. Diobol (Silver, 12 mm 1.03 g 9h). Head of Athena to right, wearing crested and laureate Attic helmet. Rev. Herakles kneeling to right, lifting and strangling the Nemean lion grasped in a choke hold. Côte 291 (same dies). HN III 976. Vlasto 1337. Light porosity, otherwise, nearly extremely fine. 100

974.
Tarentum. Circa 325-280 BC. Diobol (Silver, 12.5 mm 1.17 g 1 h). Head of Athena to right, wearing crested and laureate Attic helmet. Rev. Herakles leaning to right, lifting and strangling the Nemean lion grasped in a chokehold; to left, club. Côte 293. Diobols, Series F, Type 141. HN III 976 (but this particular variety not listed in the table). SNG ANS 1417. Vlasto 1346 (same dies). Toned and well centered. Light porosity, otherwise, good very fine. 100

Ex Vinchon 11 April 1988, 170e (part of lot).

977.

Ex Vinchon 11 April 1988, 167, and from the collection of C. Côte, R. Ratto, 29 January 1929, 549.

While Vlasto 1437 and 1439 both are included within D'Andrea, Miglioli, Tafuri and Vonghia's Diobols, Series G, Type 218 (with EYΦ between the legs of Herakles), Vlasto 1438 is part of the much rarer Type 219 (no letters between the legs). Ravel most probably missed this differentiating element when compiling his catalogue and, thus, mixed up the order of the coins.

Tarentum. Circa 325-280 BC. Diobol (Silver, 10 mm 0.95 g 1 h). Head of Athena to left, wearing crested Attic helmet decorated with a wing. Rev. T[...] Herakles leaning left, holding club in right hand and strangling lion with right arm; below, bow (off flan). Côte 300. Diobols, Series F, Type 121. HN III 976. SNG ANS 1435. Vlasto 1362-3. Original find patina. The obverse struck off-center, otherwise, very fine. 50

Ex Vinchon 11 April 1988, 170d (part of lot).

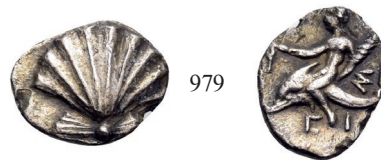

978.
Tarentum. Circa 280-228 BC. Litra (Silver, 10 mm 0.62 g 6 h). Cockle shell. Rev. Dolphin left; below, amphora. Côte -. HN III 1073. Vlasto 1528 var. (dolphin right). Toned, with scattered light deposits. Very fine. 100

From the collection of Leo Mildenberg, assembled between 1950s and 1970s.

976.
Tarentum. Circa 325-280 BC. Hemiobol (Silver, 8 mm 0.21 g). Two crescents back-to-back with four stars around. Rev. Two crescents back-to-back with four stars around. Côte -. HN III 982. Vlasto 1778. Rare with stars instead of pellets. Toned. Broken and reattached, otherwise, very fine. 50

Ex Elsen 101, 13 June 2009, 68.

979.

From the collection of Leo Mildenberg, assembled between 1950s and 1970s.

What an unusual fractional issue from Tarentum! Here the obverse sports two crescents surround by three pellets (as opposed to the usual two or four, cf. Vlasto 1756 ff), while the reverse has the type of an early trias (Vlasto 1189 ff). HN notes under the heading for the fractional issues struck c. 450-380 that some of the fractions are probably later, and since the double crescent fractions fall within the series dated to the third century, we have followed the later dating here. The question, however, is what exactly is this? It is certainly not a mule, so it seems that it is most probably some sort of trial issue, perhaps a late trias.

Perhaps an unpublished denomination (tetartemorion) for the mint. Surfaces somewhat grainy, otherwise, nearly very fine. 75

Ex Münzen und Medaillen FPL 603, Christmas 1998, 4.

This coin is either an unusually light obol, weighing less than half what it should, or it is a tetartemorion, which appears to be an unrecorded denomination for Sybaris. However, HN III p. 145 notes that on the obols, there are often four pellets on the reverse, arranged just as they are here with one pellet above and three below. Thus, it is most probably that this coin is simply an extremely light weight obol.

From the Leo Mildeberg collection, assembled between 1950s and 1970s. In 494 BC Anaxilas, then tyrant of Rhegium, encouraged a force of Samian and Ionians, refugees from the Persian suppression of the Ionian revolt, to cross the strait and take Zankle. They did so, and issued coins using the types from their home city of Samos: the lion scalp, which had already appeared on Samian coins; and the galley prow, in commemoration of how they arrived in the West. Unfortunately for the Samians, in the spirit of the times some five years later Anaxilas threw them out, replaced them with Peloponnesian colonists, and renamed the city Messana in honour of his own native city, Messene in Messinia.

Acquired in 1987.

This specimen is important for correcting earlier descriptions of the reverse type, which variously saw a possible wreath or phiale held by Nike and a caduceus cradled in her left arm. Here she clearly carries a fillet with both hands-a feature present, but poorly visible on other examples of this small denomination.

Ex Vinchon 11 April 1988, 312.

The superb quality of the obverse of this coin makes it exceptional, even for Syracuse! The city took great pride in its coinage, hiring some of the finest engravers of the age to produce the dies used to make the various denominations its mint produced. This often included what seem to be special issues of fractions, struck from especially finely engraved dies. Apparently this was a Sicilian tradition: what seems to have happened is that wealthy individuals paid for the issuance of litrai as donatives to be given to their fellow citizens; and as a way of marking them out they commissioned the best engravers to produce the dies used to mint them. This is certainly one of those special issues.

Apparently unpublished save for its appearance as lot 98 of MM (DE) 8, in 2001. Somewhat porous, otherwise, very fine. 50

This extremely rare coin seems important for settling a long-running attribution dispute concerning similarly rare, but anepigraphic hemiobols featuring a facing gorgoneion and a left-facing Chalkidian helmet (LHS 100, 2007, 197 = Nomos 29, 2023, 677 and CNG e358, 2015, 29 = CNG 78, 2008, 305). These have been attributed variously to Maroneia based on the gorgoneion type and to an agnostic Thraco-Macedonian mint based on the absence of the usual grape vine reverse of Maroneia. The present piece, however, has a partial legend that would suggest that it and the anepigraphic hemiobols actually originated at the mint of Neapolis—a city that also employed gorgoneion types, though often of a much fiercer character. An identical arrangement of the legend occurs on hemidrachms of Neapolis (see SNG ANS 433-434).

The style, the reverse incuse and the fabric of this coin is very similar to the extremely rare staters of an uncertain Euboian mint that we offered in the Kagan Collection (Nomos 33 1169-1170 = Kagan, Bovine Curiosities, p. 37, 1-2). If we accept BCD's opinion that this coin is indeed Karystos (and we have no reason not to accept it), then we should consider the possibility that the uncertain Euboian mint that issued the Kagan staters is non other than Karystos!!

Megaris

1310.

Megara. Circa 385-375 BC. Diobol (Silver, 10mm 1.27 g 7h). Laureate head of Apollo to left. Rev. [MEGA] Kithara within shallow incuse square. BCD -. BMC 4-5 (same obverse die). Dreni, Period I. SNG Copenhagen 463-464 (same obverse die). Pozzi 2022 (same dies). Extremely rare: according to Dreni only six examples are known, not counting this one. Very fine. 300

Ex Spink's NCirc. CX, 4 (August 2002), GK0642 (how could BCD lose this coin is a mystery to the cataloger).

We would like to thank Mrs Stella Dreni for her valuable help in describing this lot. Dreni's six specimens are all in public institutions - two in London, two in Copenhagen and two in Munich - making this the only available example on the market. The fact that it is actually missing from the BCD collection, famous for its comprehensiveness, and that BCD missed it when it was in NCirc, is a true mystery.

From the BCD Collection, LHS 96, 8 May 2006, 206 and Stack's 15 March 1979, 151 (part of lot).

Although the obverse type of this coin has always been described as a lion, close inspection reveals that the creature on the obverse is really the mythical Chimaira—a monster composed of parts of a lion, a goat, and a serpent that was slain by the hero Bellerophon and frequently appears as a type on Sikyonian coinage. Traces of the goat's head remain visible here above the lion's shoulder while the tail has a slight protuberance at its tip, representing the tongue of the serpent. The serpentine tail is much clearer on the example sold in Nomos 9, 2014, 132, where the head of the goat seems to have been fully erased.

Prokles was descended from the exiled Spartan king Damaratos, who fled to the Persians. Damaratos and his descendants would rule the cities of Teuthrania and Halisarna as satraps. During the Anabasis, Prokles informed Xenophon and those of the Ten Thousand of Cyrus the Younger's demise at Babylon, and lended them support. It is also worth noting that these coins of Prokles bear some of the earliest portraits of a living person.

*The gorgoneion was an apotropaic artistic device used throughout the Greek world that was thought to ward off evil. Thus it is often found in mosaics near the front door of houses, on the exteriors of buildings, on amulets and weapons, and especially on coins. In fact, one of the earliest representations of a gorgoneion comes from an electrum stater discovered during excavations at Parion (see A. A. Potts, The World's Eye, 1982, pp. 26-8). Gorgoneia became so ubiquitous on coinage that they appear as the principal type on coins from no less than thirty-seven cities across the Greek world, from Etruria to the Black Sea region and beyond.*

Dardanos. 5th century BC. Trihemiobol (Silver, 9mm 1.20g 8h). Cock standing right. Rev. Incuse head of horse to left. M&M FPL 570 (1993), 112 = lot 1406 in this auction. Cf. SNG München 173 (as a tetartemorion). Possibly the best example of this type. Very fine. 100

Acquired in 1986.

A few examples of this type have surfaced in the market during the last two decades -alas none as nice as this one-. Recently a few auctionhouses have decided to attribution this coin to Dikaia in Macedon. This is not correct as there is no parallel in the coinage of the Macedonian Dikaia or in any mint of the Chalkidian district. An attribution to the Thracian Dikaia looks more plausible to this cataloguer but until this issue is resolved we do favor, and use, the traditional attribution to Dardanos.

Maussolos, circa 377/6-353/2 BC. Tetartemorion (Silver, 5 mm 0.16 g 7 h), Mylasa?. Head and neck of a lion to right. Rev. Head of Apollo facing slightly to right. Apparently unpublished in the standard references: Cf. SNG Keckman 847-859 var. (as Hekatomnos) - but cf. 862 for a coin of different type with a lion very similar to the obverse of this coin. Struck from very elaborate dies and of unusual fine style for the denomination. Reverse struck off-center, otherwise, very fine. 75

Ex Münzen und Medaillen FPL 581, November/December 1994, 57 (as uncertain Asia Minor mint).

The style of the Apollo head on the reverse of this coin is extraordinary in many ways, especially for a coin with a diameter of just 5mm. It certainly is reminiscent of the larger denominations of the Carian Satraps Maussolos and Hidrieus. This cataloguer prefers an attribution to Maussolos for stylistic reasons, but an attribution to Hidrieus is definitely equally possible.

From the Leo Mildenberg Collection, assembled between 1950s and 1970s.

The types of this rare fraction refer to the popular First Labor of Herakles, in which the greathero killed the vicious Nemean Lion. The reverse type depicting the animal breaking an arrow in its jaws illustrates its inability to be slain by mortal weapons. Always one for the direct solution, Herakles solved this problem by strangling the lion to death.

Uncertain mint. 4th Century BC. Obol (Silver, 12 mm 0.67 g 6 h). Head of Herakles facing, wearing lion's skin headdress. Rev. Eagle standing left on head of stag to left. Göktürk 42. Seminude male deity seated to left on two winged sphinxes, extending right hand and holding scepter with his left. Rev. Head of Athena to right, wearing crested attichelmet. Leu Numismatik WA13, 2020, 458. Cf. SNG Levante 255 (Aphrodite on sphinxes and Hermes reverse). Extremely rare and unpublished in the standard references. Possibly the third and certainly the most attractive example known. Toned. Light porosity, otherwise, good very fine. 75

From the Leo Mildenberg Collection, assembled between 1950s and 1970s.

1631.

Uncertain mint. 4th Century BC. Obol (Silver, 10.5 mm 0.74 g 9 h). Baaltars seated right, holding lotus-tipped scepter with his right hand and with eagle landing on his extended left hand. Rev. Head of Athena to right, wearing crested Attichelmet. SNG Levante 244. Lightly toned. Very fine. 75

Ex Peus 393, 31 October 2007, 281.

1632

1632.

Uncertain mint. 4th Century BC. Obol (Silver, 11 mm 0.58 g 6 h). Female head (Arethusa?) facing, wearing triple-pendant earrings. Rev. Male head to left, wearing Corinthian helmet. SNG Paris 477. SNG Levante 248. Attractively toned. Minor roughness and with some light marks, otherwise, very fine. 100

From the collections of L. Mildenberg, acquired in the 1970s, and H. S. von Aulock.

The types of this coin have been consistently misdescribed over the years in collection and sale catalogues. While the wild hair of the facing head on the obverse does suggest the serpent hair of a gorgoneion, the triple-pendant earrings seem to indicate that head was intended to imitate Kimon's facing depiction of Arethusa for the coinage of Syracuse-a prototype that enjoyed popularity on other Cilician coins. Likewise, The short hair of the reverse helmeted head suggests that it is a male and therefore not Athena as is usually stated.

1633
